

DAILY EXCURSIONS

TO THE

HOTEL del CORONADO

Twenty-One Dollars.

Pays for a round trip ticket, including room and board for one week (with the privilege of the second week for $10.00 additional) at America's grandest seaside resort.

Where the amount of personal comfort and enjoyment supplied by the management, the well-provided tables and exquisite service is equalled at no other hotel in California, if in the world.

HUNTING, FISHING, BATHING.
Game is plentiful. Barracuda and Spanish mackerel are now taking very lively. This is the sportsman's paradise. Well-trained horses, rowboats and yachts always ready. Bathing in large swimming tanks of hot or cold salt water also in the surf.

At the delightful spot everything is bright and full of sunshine and happiness, and one never tires watching the beautiful expanse of ocean as it extends far away into the land of mystery and romance.

ROUND TRIP TICKETS.
From Los Angeles, embracing railroad, street car, ferry and motor line charges, for one at SANTA FE TICKET OFFICE, 129 N. SPRING, or FIRST ST. DEPOT. For further particulars apply to
T. D. YEMANS, Agent.
226 W. FIRST ST. Los Angeles.

WANTED—

TO PURCHASE FOR CASH

All the furniture, store goods and general merchandise in the city or county, in large or small lots.

MATLOCK & REED,
AUCTIONEERS.

Second and Broadway.

A GREAT SALE!

Horses, Cows, Hogs, Firewood, Etc., to Be Sold on the Los Feliz Rancho.

AFTER THE

FIRST DAY OF OCTOBER

There will be sold about 5000 cords of firewood on the Los Feliz Rancho at $1 to $1.50 per cord (willow $1, oak, walnut and buckhorn, etc., $1.50), the wood to be cut in store lengths, corded and paid for before removed.

Also the entire herd of thoroughbred Holsteins and graded Holstein cows, bulls and heifers will be sold at prices that will repay every large family to buy. Beautiful spotted black and white heifers from six months to one year old will be sold for $20 each; young bulls at $25, and handsome young cows at proportionate low prices.

Several young horses from excellent dams and sires, by General Crook, will be offered at low prices.

There will also be offered for sale about 100 head of fine young Berkshire bred pigs at $5 and upwards.

Immediately the stock is sold nearly 1000 tons of alfalfa hay will be offered for sale at $6 per ton, also large tracts of grain and pasture land will be for rental.

Intending purchasers are requested to not visit the rancho before October 1, but after that date all are cordially invited to call and thoroughly investigate everything for themselves. The foreman will be found at the old ranch house.

For further particulars call at the

OFFICE OF

Los Feliz Rancho,
236 W. First St.

Teeth Extracted Free

FROM 8 TO 9 A. M.

Bridge Work a Specialty.
Gold or porcelain crowns, $5.
Sets of Teeth, upper and lower, $14.
Set of Teeth, upper or lower, $7.
Teeth filled with gold, $1 and up.
Teeth filled with gold alloy, 75c and up.
Teeth filled with silver, 50c and up.
Teeth filled with amalgam, 50c and up.
Teeth filled with cement, 50c.
Teeth cleaned, 50c and up.
Teeth extracted without pain by use of gas, $1.

All Work Warranted.

DR. C. H. PARKER,
COR. BROADWAY AND THIRD STS.
(Entrance on Third St.)

DENTISTRY!

Rubber or Celluloid Plates, $3.00 to $10.00
Gold Fillings, $1.00 and up
Silver or Amalgam, 50c and up
Cement Fillings, 50c and up
Gold or Porcelain Crowns, 75c and up
Bridge Work, $5.00 per tooth
Painless extracting with gas a specialty.

DR. J. P. TUDOR,
EXPERT DENTIST,
Northeast Corner Third and Spring streets

A. B. CHAPMAN,
318 S. Spring st., near 4th.

Stoves, Ranges, Tinning and Plumbing.

Hardwood, Tileware, Graniteware, Rubber Hoses and Agricultural Tools, Gas, Gasoline and Oil Stoves, House-furnishing Goods, Gasoline and Oil. SOLE AGENT FOR THE WEST STOVES.
Lower prices than anywhere else on this coast.

TELEPHONE 418.

Health is Wealth,

DR. E. C. WEST'S NERVE AND BRAIN TONIC.
A guaranteed specific for Hysteria, Dizziness, Convulsions, Fits, Nervous Neuralgia, Headache, Nervous Prostration caused by the use of alcohol or tobacco. Wakefulness, Mental Depression, Softening of the Brain, resulting in insanity and leading to misery, decay and death. Premature old age, Barrenness, Loss of Power in either sex, Involuntary Losses and Seminal Emission caused by over-exertion of the brain, self-abuse or over-indulgence. Each box contains one month's treatment. $1.00 a box, or six boxes for $5.00, sent by mail prepaid on receipt of price.

WE GUARANTEE SIX BOXES.
To cure any case. With each order received by us six boxes, accompanied with $5.00 we will send the purchaser our written guarantee to refund the money if the treatment does not effect a cure. Guarantees issued only by

H. M. SALE & SON, Druggists,
220 S. SPRING ST., LOS ANGELES, CAL.

Throop: University

PASADENA, CAL.
COLLEGE OF LETTERS AND SCIENCE:
(a) Classical Course; (b) Philosophical Course; (c) English Course; (d) Scientific Course.

COLLEGE OF LAW, MUSICAL INSTITUTE, ART STUDIO, PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT, STUDENT BODY AND FACULTY, WRITING, ELOCUTION, PHYSICAL CULTURE, GYMNASIUM.

The courses of study in the various departments of the University will be broad and thorough. For further information call upon address.

L. W. ANDREWS, Sec'y, PASADENA, CAL.

NITRATE OF SODA.
The best known commercial fertilizer. Highly endorsed by all fruit growers who have used it. The war in Chile has prevented a free shipment and has increased the cost. The undersigned is in receipt of a consignment direct from Chile, which will be sold at lowest possible price. For all information on above subject address GEO. C. HOPKINS, California Warehouse Co., Los Angeles.
September 5, 1891.
JOHN E. JACKSON.

Unquestionably the Most Elegant Resort on the Coast.

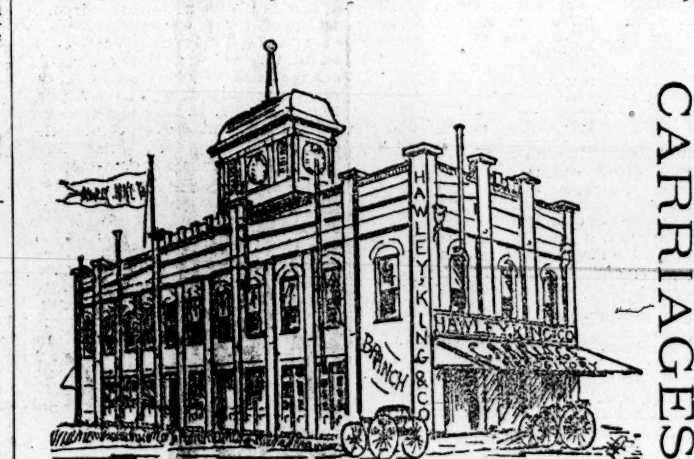

HOUSE supplied with every convenience known to modern hotels. Beautiful ballroom.

Passenger elevators! Incandescent lights in every room.

HOT AND COLD SALT BATHS.

Pavilion on beach (a la carte) where will be served at all times the finest fish dinners, clam chowder, terrapin stews, etc. The cuisine will be the feature of the house.

HAWLEY, KING & CO.,

THIS OLD LANDMARK

Is now occupied by us as a Branch Carriage Repository. Call and inspect our vehicles—good styles, good quality and reasonable prices. We are sole agents for the Columbus Buggy Co. in Los Angeles.

HAWLEY, KING & CO.

THE WORLD'S FAIR CO.,

129 S. SPRING ST.

Capital Stock, . . . $100,000

HON. H. T. HAZARD, Mayor of Los Angeles, President.
J. J. SCHALLERT, President Citizens' Ice Company, Vice-President.
A. D. CHILDRESS, President City Bank, Treasurer.
J. S. SALKEY, Parisian Cloak and Suit Company, Secretary.
W. E. FISLER, Sec. Colum. Exposition Information and Exhibit Co., Chicago Director.
HON. J. J. GOSPER, General Manager.

This corporation is organized for the purpose of enabling the people to visit the World's Fair in 1893 by gradual accumulation of savings at the rate of $1.50 per week. The Company will guarantee first-class tickets to and from Chicago at any time during the continuance of the World's Fair, furnish meals en route both ways, good hotel accommodations for six days at Chicago, six admission tickets to the World's Fair Grounds, two tickets to any first-class theater, free bus to and from depot to hotel at Chicago. Also guarantee to furnish membership certificate of the Columbian Exposition Information Bureau, who will have uniformed officers at depots to receive you, conduct you to your hotel, look after your baggage, and will furnish you with all necessary information concerning the World's Fair. For further particulars inquire at the office of the Company,
129 South Spring Street, Upstairs.

HON. J. J. GOSPER, Gen. Manager.

Refer by permission to the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank, First National Bank, Citizens' Bank and City Bank, Custodians of Funds.

ALPINE CEMENT IT IS THE BEST.

ASK YOUR ARCHITECT ABOUT IT WALL PLASTER.

205 S. Main st., Los Angeles, Cal.

A Pure MALT WHISKEY

TO THOSE who have weak lungs, or who want a pure, straight unadulterated Malt Whiskey we would recommend "CRESCENT MALT" as every one knows, or should know, good straight Malt Whiskey is the best article known for the lungs. For sale by all druggists. Try it—we would suggest it.

F. W. BRAUN & CO., Wholesale Druggists, L. A., Cal.

F. W. BRAUN & CO.,

Wholesale Druggists, Importers and Manufacturing Chemists.

The best equipped Wholesale Drug House on the Pacific Slope, 401-407 N. Main st., Los Angeles.

BRANCH: 307-309 Fifth st., San Diego.

Undoubtedly

When you are buying Dry Goods you want the best possible value for your money.

THIS IS RIGHT.

Furthermore, the size or elegance of the store cuts a very small figure. A large and well-selected stock, desirable goods at reasonable prices, honorable business methods, these should and will attract your patronage. Beware of any house which continuously pretends to be "under-selling," or offering goods "at or below cost." Such methods will not survive long.

We now have on sale following extra values. Come in during the week and examine them and see if we are not right:

DRESS GOODS, ETC.
Fancy stripe Double width Cashmeres, per yard, 25c
38-inch Dress Flannels, grey mixtures and colors, per yard, 40c
Fancy stripe Dress Flannels, very pretty and durable; just the thing for school dresses, per yard, 35c
38-inch fine all-wool Camelotias and Surges, new fall shades, per yard, 45c
Our plain Bourrette Cloth Suits, each 14.50
Choice styles in Dress Patterns at $10, $12, $15, 20 and up.
Agents for Priestley's Celebrated Black Dress Goods.
A handsome line of Gumps and Passamenteries as low as 10c, 12 1/2c, 30c and 35c yard; others, 50c, 75c, $1.25, $2.50 per yard and upwards.
Astrakhan and Feather Trimmings in the newest styles.
Just received another large shipment of those very desirable heavy beached Table Damasks and Napkins, no starch, every thread linen, honest goods; prices very low; to see them is to buy them. And if you are in need of BLANKETS, QUILTS, BED-Spreads, LACE CURTAINS OR PORTIERS.
BY ALL MEANS inspect our prices and qualities first. We haven't the space here to quote prices or call attention to one-tenth of the extra values we are offering this fall.

FIXEN & COMPANY,

321 S. Spring st., Los Angeles, Cal.

ELECTRIC CARS PASS THE STORE.

Fall Opening!

TOMORROW.

Grand Display of Fine Imported

Pattern Hats and Elegant Millinery

FOR FINE TRADE.

A Souvenir
TO EVERYBODY.

THE WONDER,

MILLINERY. 219 SOUTH SPRING STREET.

We Are Going Out of Business!

Our store is for rent from October 1st, and we are selling out everything at very low prices. Now is your time to buy

School Books and Supplies Cheap.

But stock is going fast, so if you want anything hurry up. Respectfully,

A. W. DUNNING, 455 S. SPRING.

Parties desiring to communicate with A. W. DUNNING, can do so by addressing by mail P. O. Weaver 300, Los Angeles, Cal.

J. T. SHEWARD

113-115 North Spring St.

We Are Taking on More Help.

A few first-class salesmen can secure good positions by making application early Monday morning. The large increase in our business the past few weeks makes this move imperative. Make your application early Monday morning prepared to go to work.

Our dress goods department is showing large gains; $5 suits, $8 suits, $10 suits, the best values in the city; new effects in Angora and Persian lamb goods; they are new things for fall and winter. New broadcloths, ladies' cloths; all the new shades; specially new are camel's hair cloaking and sacking. A very desirable bargain is a line of wool dress goods at 50 cents and 65 cents per yard; about 200 different styles; they are extra cheap.

A big drive is offered in the largest cloak department in the city; not only the largest department, but the largest stock and the greatest variety. You are specially invited to examine a line of cloaks at $6.50, $8.00 and $10.00. During boom days we never did as large a business in cloaks as we are now doing. Furs and fur-trimmed garments are having a big run; the only house in the city selling fur capes at $3.50 and $5.00; lined with silk and well made. A small deposit on any garment secures a handsome cloak with easy payments on the balance.

Boys' clothing offered Monday at exactly half marked price; $5.00 suits for $2.50; $6.00 suits for $3.00; and so on all through the stock, Monday only.

Butterick Patterns and Fashion Sheets for October now on sale.

Parisian Cloak and Suit Co.

217 South Spring street.

Leading Modistes.

Fashion Leaders

FALL OFFERINGS:

Russian hair capes	Sealette capes	Silk Maltese
$3.25.	Silk Quilted Lining.	French Cony Trimmed Jackets.
	$4.95.	$9.95.
Monkey capes,	French coney capes	Astrakhan capes,
(Semi Collar.)	$5.25.	(Genuine.)
$18.75.		$14.50.
Cheviot French	Mink capes,	Beaver capes.
Cony Trimmed Jackets,	$31.50.	$21.00.
$5.95.

(ALL CAPES HAVE HIGH SHOULDERS.)

CHINO!

Has the largest Beet Sugar Factory and Refinery in the world, and the United States Experiment Station is located here.

This celebrated ranch is the property of Mr. Richard Gird, and contains about 50,000 acres; 16,000 acres of it has been put in the market in tracts to suit, bounded by Pomona, Ontario and Riverside, places noted for fruit culture, beauty, etc.; 16,000 acres of arable water lands, which will produce alfalfa, corn, beets, etc., without irrigation. The best arable water is abundant at from 8 to 25 feet deep. The land is porous, smooth, unbroken and ready for the plow.

The crops need no insect sprayer, no hoeing, or holding for market. With right tillage, the yield is large and profits sure. Wherever in Europe or the United States this industry has been established, land has quadrupled in value and the people greatly prospered.

Seed furnished at cost on trust until sale of beets; use of seed drills free; special implements at cost; experienced sugar-beet farmer on the ground to freely give correct instruction.

Buy land where you won't have to wait FIVE LONG YEARS for your trees to commence giving you a support, but go to Chino, where you can get the best lands in the world for all kinds of fruits. Raise beets between the rows and get your cash for them in five months, and you can earn from $40 to $100 per acre, and the price of beets is established beforehand and not subject to any market fluctuations. This is the chance of your life. 3000 acres of beets raised this year and a contract with the Messrs. Oxnard Beet Sugar Company to consume 21,500 acres of beets in 5 years, and will double the capacity if you raise the beets. Where on earth are such inducements offered and such returns in same length of time? Prices, $50 to $250 per acre; easy terms.

THE TOWN OF CHINO

Is a rapidly-growing business point, situated near the center of the great Chino Ranch; has daily mail, the great Sugar Factory, W. F. Co.'s express, two railways connecting at Ontario with the Southern Pacific main line, telegraphs, telephone, best of water under fire pressure, etc., and is surrounded for miles by the richest land in the world. Lands and lots for sale at reasonable prices, on moderate terms. Title, U. S. PATENT. For further information, address

J. G. McMICHAEL,

General Agent, No. 103 South Broadway, Los Angeles.

BRANCH OFFICES.
Chicago, Ill.
W. K. GIRD, Chino Office, Ontario, Cal.
S. W. HOLDSINGER, Chino, Cal.
CHAS. HOLDSINGER, 36-38 Monroe st., Grand Rapids, Mich.
C. O. GREEN, Palestine, Tex.
GEORGE EAKINS, 614 Chestnut st., Philadelphia, Pa.
S. GOLDBER, Beeston Notts, England.

"THE SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST"

GURNEY CAB AND EXPRESS CO.

We are Popular Among the Ladies for Calling, Receptions & Shopping. REASON—Dresses do not become soiled by coming in contact with the wheels of the carriage. Guests at the hotels will find our service just what they want. $25.00 to $1.00 per hour for the cab, or 25c per mile for each passenger. We are Wells Fargo and Co.'s delivery. Also have a baggage rate of 5c—same as for passengers.

RING UP IT. OFFICE: 122 W. SECOND. John H. Hise, Manager.

PASADENA

Times Branch Office, No. 50 East Colorado st.

MATTERS MUNICIPAL.

Franchise Granted for the Electric Street Railroad.

Another Road is Knocking for Admission.

The Result of Co. B's Semi-annual Shoot.

The West Side Company Extending Its Water System—Brethren Personal Notes—Other Local Items of Interest.

The City Council met in regular session yesterday afternoon, Messrs. Lukens, Simpson, McQuilling and Clarke present, and Banbury absent.

An ordinance granting to the Pasadena Street Railroad Company the right to construct, alter, change or alter its tracks within the city limits, maintain a railway and to operate the same by electric power, was taken from the table, read section by section and adopted as a whole. The provisions of the ordinance have already been published in this paper.

City Attorney Arthur submitted a report relative to the recent Supreme Court decision in the sewer case of the city vs. Stinson. On motion the matter of prosecuting the sewer suits was referred to the City Attorney and the Committee on Ordinance and Judiciary.

City Recorder Rose was granted a further leave of absence until October 15.

A petition was read from property owners asking that the official grade of Madison street be changed from 300 yards to 300 feet. The petition was referred to the City Engineer in charge of the work.

A communication was read from Wm. G. McQuilling, receiver of the San Gabriel River, stating that at the next regular meeting of the board he will apply for a franchise for the south boundary of the city along Depot street, Broadway and the city limits to Walnut street.

A number of bills were referred to the Auditor and Finance Committee without reading.

The following transfers of money from the general fund were made: To the fire and sewer sinking fund, $207.75; to the library sinking fund, $19.85; library fund, $45.13; sewer fund, $135.49.

Co. B held a semi-annual target shoot yesterday at the arroyo range. The shooting began shortly after 8 o'clock and continued throughout the day. Numerous visitors were present and manifested much interest in the proceedings. Refreshments were served to all who came. Lieut. Lang, inspector of rifle practice, was present.

Following is the score in detail. Each man had ten shots at a target 300 yards distant, with the possibility of scoring five points:

Capt. Hamilton, 28; Lieut. Baughman, 28; Sergt. Buchanan, 27; Sutcliffe, 25; Cook, 13; Case, 43; Q. M. Cole, 30; Corps, Coleman, 38; Berry, 27; Brown, 21; Briley, 31; E. G. Clapp, 30; Edwards, 30; Collingswood, 24; Hedges, 33; Herman, 30; Hahn, 10; Lacey, 27; Martin, 34; McGowan, 33; Root, 33; Schmidt, 15; Smith, 30; Hunt, 32; Peters, 34; Packer, 24; Rossett, 33; Lukens, 30; Miles, 0; Morton, 33; Lieut. Lang, 38; Pernar, 23.

On Monday morning the social season on Friday evening by a hop in Morgan Hall, which was heartily enjoyed by the many present. The hall was tastefully decorated in honor of the occasion. Brockway's orchestra furnished the music.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Weatherly, Messrs. Mamie Young, Harry Polley, Stanley Beyer, Helen Carter, Fannie B. Robinson, Lydia Vischer, Henrietta Vischer, Edith Gardner, Miriam Gardner, Lou Kernaghan, Alice Hall, Flora Conner, Lulu Conner, Blanche Hall, Victor Barker, Miss Beuf, Sadie Keese, Eleanor Craig, Miss Vischer, Bertha Stinson, Charlotte Polley and Stanley Bent, Newton S. Leithead, Will Lettich, Charles Borwick, Theodore Simpson, Lester Lippincott, Charles Knight, Frank J. Polley, John Parker, Homer J. Young, Frank Staats, Fred Milard, Charles Hill, Raymond Allen, Hoyt, Lyman Craig, J. D. Graham, R. T. Rogers and E. Kayser.

EXTENDING THE WATER SYSTEM.
The Pasadena Land and Water Company, and not the Lake Vineyard Company, is extending its main south on Fair Oaks avenue. A 9½-inch main will extend from Colorado to Kansas street, a 7-inch main thence south to Elrod street, and a 5-inch main thence to California street. Four-inch pipes will be laid on Kansas, West Kansas and Dayton streets, Orange place, Beach place, Delacy street and the main drive. Altogether there will be 8550 feet laid. The Lake Vineyard Company has a 4-inch main extending south on the east side of Fair Oaks avenue.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH NOTES.
At the Christian Church on Delacy street there will be preaching at 11 o'clock this morning by Elder A. J. Wood. The evening service will be held at 8 o'clock and will be conducted by the Young People's Society. All will be welcome.

Rev. T. D. Garvin and wife went to Riverside yesterday to attend the opening of a new Christian church there, which takes place today. The opening sermon will be preached by Elder Garvin.

The Christian Missionary Convention of Southern California convenes at Riverside tomorrow evening. It will continue for two days. Mrs. D. Allen, Charles Hall and R. J. Graham will act as delegates from this place.

REFUSED TO PAY TOLL.

Friday evening a warrant was sworn out against Mr. Drummond, who lives on East Colorado street, beyond the city limits, for refusing to pay toll. Mr. Drummond was notified of the warrant and the case was set for a hearing at 1 o'clock yesterday morning. It was sometime after this hour when the defendant made his appearance. He asked that the case be postponed until he could secure counsel. It was then fixed for trial on Thursday morning next at 9 o'clock.

"LOS ANGELES."
The following beautiful lines were penned by Miss Emma B. Dunham of Deering, Me., an intimate friend of Mrs. Rosa Whitmore of this place:

Is this enchanted land, this land so fair,
Where marvels of rare beauty bud and blow,
Where all the circling landscape is aglow
With fruits and flowers, whose odors fill the air?

I heard a legendary fairy declare
(And surely happy fancies ought to know)
In fabled tales that tell in cadence low,
What makes Los Angeles so bright and rare.

"One day," she said, "from out of Paradise
A band of angels came and lingered here,
Awaiting heavenly missions, many days,
Where e'er their footsteps fell in varied guise.

And tints and curious forms, the flowers
"Appear."
What wonder thou art fair, Los Angeles!

THROOP UNIVERSITY.
Hon. A. G. Throop received from Dr. Channing of this city, a book from the library of his father, the eminent William Elbery Channing, entitled, "The Principles of Morality," by W. J. Fox, bearing date 1833; also a picture of this noted divine.

This is a remarkable incident, showing, as it does, the sympathy and appreciation of Dr. Channing for the founder of this great enterprise; and also that the first book donated to the university should be from the library of so eminent a man.

The articles of incorporation of Throop University have been approved and returned by the Secretary of State, E. G. Wainwright. A meeting of the trustees will be called at an early date.

Circular No. 2 is being published, stating the various courses of study, requirements for admission to college department, and general information. The college is growing rapidly, but surely. Mrs. Ellen Brown of Santa Barbara has moved to Pasadena that her daughter may attend the university. Several other young people of Santa Paula are expected to attend.

RECREATION.
The atmosphere was somewhat warmer yesterday.

Several picnic parties spent yesterday in the canyons.

The overland, yesterday, was reported twenty hours late.

Rev. H. G. N. Fife will occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian Church both morning and evening.

Rev. Crawford conducted the funeral services over the remains of George Robinson yesterday.

The funeral of George Robinson took place yesterday at his late residence on Madison street.

Mrs. Knox, fall and winter millinery opening, Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 29 and 30. All are invited. No. 10 North Fair Oaks avenue.

The pulpit of the Methodist Church will be occupied in the morning by Rev. P. L. Merrill, and in the evening by Rev. A. C. Williams.

A business meeting of the Valley Hunt will be held next Saturday evening at the residence of B. M. Workins. The coming year promises to be a lively one.

The United Samaritan Society will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Presbyterian Church. A full attendance is desired.

The new Baptist Church of South Pasadena will be dedicated next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. C. E. Harris of this city will deliver the dedication sermon.

The meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association this afternoon in Strong's Hall, at 3 o'clock, will be led by Dr. A. H. Lindley.

The regular monthly business meeting of the association will be held on Tuesday evening at 7:30. As there is business of importance every member is requested to be present.

The lecture on the "Yosemite" given by Rev. C. E. Harris Friday evening was listened to with close attention by a large gathering of the community. His trip in a very interesting manner.

Tomorrow a special anniversary service will be held at the Church of the Angels, 1212 Broadway, at 10 o'clock. The service will be held at the usual time, 3:30 p. m., and will be led by Rev. J. W. Hawkins.

The regular monthly business meeting of the association will be held on Tuesday evening at 7:30. As there is business of importance every member is requested to be present.

Mrs. M. Fish and daughter, Miss Verne Fish, returned on Friday's overland from a three months' eastern trip. Part of the time was spent in Buffalo, N. Y., where Miss McAllister, who is attending school in this city, was among the visitors. Dr. McCoy was among yesterday's visitors. Geo. F. Granger and Dr. P. F. Rowland will go to Reno, Nev., on Monday. Mrs. Dr. Michener was in town yesterday. Prof. Thayer goes to Tucson, Ariz., Tuesday, on a short business trip.

Value of Cultivated Citrus Fruit Lands.
[San Diego.]
The value of cultivated citrus fruit lands as an investment is shown by a transaction recently made at Riverside, which the Phoenix of that place recounts in the following:

"Perhaps the best sale of real-estate in the way of orchard property ever made in Southern California was that of B. Tibbals' ten-acre orange orchard, sold this week to George H. Rogers of Pasadena for $24,000. J. T. Jarvis negotiated the sale. Mr. Tibbals bought the place just four years ago for $12,000. He had but four acres set to orange trees. The purchaser set out the other six acres and gave the whole grove the best of care. His income from the place, over and above a living, he put into improvements, and now the place is worth $24,000. A clear profit on his four years' work. The price, as will be noticed, is not the highest per acre that has been realized in this valley, but many consider it, comparatively speaking, a higher price than that paid for the Allen orchard."

This is another refutation of the charge that land made by intending investors that our lands are too high. When fruit land under cultivation sells for $24,000 an acre there is no ground for complaining that uncultivated fruit land is too high at $2,000 and $4,000 an acre, which is a high price for land beginning to bear. The distance from the center of business is about the same—some two miles. At any rate it is a good price and the property is well worth the money."

This is another refutation of the charge that land made by intending investors that our lands are too high. When fruit land under cultivation sells for $24,000 an acre there is no ground for complaining that uncultivated fruit land is too high at $2,000 and $4,000 an acre, which is a high price for land beginning to bear. The distance from the center of business is about the same—some two miles. At any rate it is a good price and the property is well worth the money."

Everything is now moving smoothly in the sugar factory, and it is working well up toward full capacity. About 300 tons of beets are being delivered daily, and in the twenty-four hours ending Wednesday evening, 315 tons were worked up, and 57,000 pounds, or 28½ tons of sugar turned out. In thirty-six hours the factory has turned out 100,000 pounds or 50 tons of sugar were made. Just stop and consider those figures a moment. They represent lots of sweetening. About two carloads of sugar are being shipped daily now, twenty-six carloads having been shipped so far this season.—[Chino Champion.]

The New Jersey peach crop was so large this year and came in so closely upon the heels of the Delaware crop that tons of fruit went to waste, no price being obtainable for them. This may have the effect of driving many growers out of the business next year.

FOR THE lowest prices on Pianos, Organs and all musical merchandise, call at A. B. Jenkins & Co., 125 South Spring street.

Dr. Wong Him.
Chinese physician and surgeon, has resided in Los Angeles sixteen (16) years. His reputation as a thorough physician has been established and he is highly respected. His large practice is sufficient proof of his ability and honesty.

The doctor graduated in the foremost colleges, also practiced in the largest hospitals of Canton, China. The doctor speaks Spanish fluently.

Office: New number, 69; old number, 117, Upper Main st., E. O. box 54, station C.

IF YOU want Orange, Olive, Lemon or other fruit lands, on long time, read adv. of W. P. McIntosh.

A VERY large stock of Orchestra and Brass Band Music just received at A. B. Jenkins & Co. Music House, 125 South Spring street.

THE STAGE

following a reception at the White House. They are discussing, of course, the great events of the day—the war and its progress. An incident of the same character is the wonderful kindness and the native sense of dry humor of Abraham Lincoln as opposed to the rigorously just and hard nature of his Secretary of War, Stanton. A mother whose son is to be sentenced to be shot as a spy rushes into the apartment and falls at the feet of the President with a prayer for clemency. The President is deeply affected. He is obliged to refuse her request, and says, with a great sorrow in his voice:

"This is a vintage of hearts, and all the grapes in the press run blood—they all run blood."

Stanton says:

"Mr. President, the young man cannot be pardoned. This woman has already been to me and I have refused her."

The weeping mother explains to the President that she had been there, and that Stanton had directed her to seek the Executive as the only chance of saving her son.

Lincoln says:

"So Stanton said that, did he? Well, Madam, if Secretary Stanton said that I might pardon your son: it is not for me to ruin his reputation for veracity."

Mr. President, I never thought she could gain access to you. The case is—

"Never mind, Mr. Secretary, I shall protect your reputation even against yourself," and, laughing, he writes a commutation of the sentence.

The regular monthly business meeting of the association will be held on Tuesday evening at 7:30. As there is business of importance every member is requested to be present.

The lecture on the "Yosemite" given by Rev. C. E. Harris Friday evening was listened to with close attention by a large gathering of the community. His trip in a very interesting manner.

Tomorrow a special anniversary service will be held at the Church of the Angels, 1212 Broadway, at 10 o'clock. The service will be held at the usual time, 3:30 p. m., and will be led by Rev. J. W. Hawkins.

The regular monthly business meeting of the association will be held on Tuesday evening at 7:30. As there is business of importance every member is requested to be present.

Mrs. M. Fish and daughter, Miss Verne Fish, returned on Friday's overland from a three months' eastern trip. Part of the time was spent in Buffalo, N. Y., where Miss McAllister, who is attending school in this city, was among the visitors. Dr. McCoy was among yesterday's visitors. Geo. F. Granger and Dr. P. F. Rowland will go to Reno, Nev., on Monday. Mrs. Dr. Michener was in town yesterday. Prof. Thayer goes to Tucson, Ariz., Tuesday, on a short business trip.

Value of Cultivated Citrus Fruit Lands.
[San Diego.]
The value of cultivated citrus fruit lands as an investment is shown by a transaction recently made at Riverside, which the Phoenix of that place recounts in the following:

"Perhaps the best sale of real-estate in the way of orchard property ever made in Southern California was that of B. Tibbals' ten-acre orange orchard, sold this week to George H. Rogers of Pasadena for $24,000. J. T. Jarvis negotiated the sale. Mr. Tibbals bought the place just four years ago for $12,000. He had but four acres set to orange trees. The purchaser set out the other six acres and gave the whole grove the best of care. His income from the place, over and above a living, he put into improvements, and now the place is worth $24,000. A clear profit on his four years' work. The price, as will be noticed, is not the highest per acre that has been realized in this valley, but many consider it, comparatively speaking, a higher price than that paid for the Allen orchard."

This is another refutation of the charge that land made by intending investors that our lands are too high. When fruit land under cultivation sells for $24,000 an acre there is no ground for complaining that uncultivated fruit land is too high at $2,000 and $4,000 an acre, which is a high price for land beginning to bear. The distance from the center of business is about the same—some two miles. At any rate it is a good price and the property is well worth the money."

This is another refutation of the charge that land made by intending investors that our lands are too high. When fruit land under cultivation sells for $24,000 an acre there is no ground for complaining that uncultivated fruit land is too high at $2,000 and $4,000 an acre, which is a high price for land beginning to bear. The distance from the center of business is about the same—some two miles. At any rate it is a good price and the property is well worth the money."

Everything is now moving smoothly in the sugar factory, and it is working well up toward full capacity. About 300 tons of beets are being delivered daily, and in the twenty-four hours ending Wednesday evening, 315 tons were worked up, and 57,000 pounds, or 28½ tons of sugar turned out. In thirty-six hours the factory has turned out 100,000 pounds or 50 tons of sugar were made. Just stop and consider those figures a moment. They represent lots of sweetening. About two carloads of sugar are being shipped daily now, twenty-six carloads having been shipped so far this season.—[Chino Champion.]

The New Jersey peach crop was so large this year and came in so closely upon the heels of the Delaware crop that tons of fruit went to waste, no price being obtainable for them. This may have the effect of driving many growers out of the business next year.

FOR THE lowest prices on Pianos, Organs and all musical merchandise, call at A. B. Jenkins & Co., 125 South Spring street.

Dr. Wong Him.
Chinese physician and surgeon, has resided in Los Angeles sixteen (16) years. His reputation as a thorough physician has been established and he is highly respected. His large practice is sufficient proof of his ability and honesty.

The doctor graduated in the foremost colleges, also practiced in the largest hospitals of Canton, China. The doctor speaks Spanish fluently.

Office: New number, 69; old number, 117, Upper Main st., E. O. box 54, station C.

IF YOU want Orange, Olive, Lemon or other fruit lands, on long time, read adv. of W. P. McIntosh.

A VERY large stock of Orchestra and Brass Band Music just received at A. B. Jenkins & Co. Music House, 125 South Spring street.

and received a hearty welcome from an immense audience that completely filled the vast building.

Mary Anderson is preparing her dramatic memoirs for the press.

The summer run of Sinbad at the Chicago Opera-house has cleared David Henderson $37,000.

New England is said to be the only section of this country where theatrical business is not good at present.

St. Louis, which for a couple of seasons back was a poor show town, has suddenly become one of the best in the Southwest.

White Swede gloves, "trimmed with the narrowest of tan bindings, are much used at present in New York by ladies at the theaters. They look chic but they make the hands look larger.

This Date in History.—Sept. 27.

1601—Louis XIII of France born; died 1643; son of Henry IV of Navarre and second son of the Bourbon line.

1627—Bossuet, eloquent French preacher, born; died 1704.

1690—St. Vincent de Paul, founder and promoter of religious orders for charity, died.

1715—Dr. Thomas Burnet, author of the theory that the Mosaic account of creation is allegorical, died; born 1656; his "Sacred Theory of the Earth" was condemned by the British church, but is now accepted as orthodox.

1792—George Cruikshank, famous caricaturist, born in London; died 1879.

1827—The first railroad opened for trains, viz., the Stockton and Darlington road, built by Edward Pease and George Stephenson.

1830—William Babcock, Hatten, soldier and writer, born at West Hartford, Ct.; died 1887.

1854—The great passenger steamer Arctic collided with the Vesuvius, both sunk; many lives lost, and the prominence of the lost made the calamity memorable on both continents.

1854—Bottle of Pilot Knob, Mo.; General Hugh R. Ewing, with but 2,000 men, repulsed General Sterling Price, with some 5,000, and at night effected a retreat to the north.

1870—General Braxton Bragg died at Galveston, Texas; born 1815.

1880—General Abner Durfee, commander of the famous "Dreadnaught," died in New York city; born 1815.

Tourist sleeping cars, Los Angeles to Toronto, Canada, without change by the Santa Fe route.

THE NEW LINE OF "Columbus Buggy Co." Muggies and phaetons run by the Metropolitan Stables, 231 West First street, are purchased of Messrs. Hawley, King & Co.

TEN DOLLARS REWARD.—In consequence of the many complaints of the theft of the "Columbus Buggy," most elegant in its construction, we will pay for the next sixty days a reward of $10 for the arrest and conviction of any of the offenders.

THE REFERENCE COMMITTEE OF the Roman Industrial Association will be in session on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the headquarters of the association, 1212 Broadway, every Tuesday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock.

HARNESSES, SADDLERY, WHIPS, ETC.—A good stock at M. H. Huston's 101 N. Broadway, opposite THE TIMES office.

GRANULA, the great health food, for sale by all grocers. H. Jevne agent.

BORN.
SMITH—September 25, 1891, to the wife of Charles M. Smith, a son. Baby and mother doing well.

ALTON—On the 25th inst., at 2428 Pine st., San Francisco, to the wife of Thomas M. Alton, a son.

DIED.
CLACUS—In this city, Friday, September 25, Dr. E. E. Clacus, a native of Germany, aged 85 years.

Friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend the funeral, which will take place on Sunday at 2 p. m., from 1306 Figueroa st.

It is an admitted fact on the part of the local managers that the Saturday matinee is a failure. It is a failure. With very few exceptions, such as during the Little Lord Fauntleroy craze, the Saturday matinee is but a slimly attended and often does not pay expenses. As for Wednesday matinees, so popular in some cities, they have been tried a few times here with a uniform want of success.

While the managers recognize the evil, they are slow to admit the only remedy for it, which is to lower the price of admission. If this were done, the Saturday matinee would be a success. The Saturday matinee is a failure. It is a failure. With very few exceptions, such as during the Little Lord Fauntleroy craze, the Saturday matinee is but a slimly attended and often does not pay expenses. As for Wednesday matinees, so popular in some cities, they have been tried a few times here with a uniform want of success.

The ladies of the Russian Art Club are evidently determined to do nothing by halves and have engaged the Grand Opera-house for the first lecture of the course under their auspices. The celebrated Siberian traveler, George Kennan, will have the honor of opening the ball.

It is an admitted fact on the part of the local managers that the Saturday matinee is a failure. It is a failure. With very few exceptions, such as during the Little Lord Fauntleroy craze, the Saturday matinee is but a slimly attended and often does not pay expenses. As for Wednesday matinees, so popular in some cities, they have been tried a few times here with a uniform want of success.

While the managers recognize the evil, they are slow to admit the only remedy for it, which is to lower the price of admission. If this were done, the Saturday matinee would be a success. The Saturday matinee is a failure. It is a failure. With very few exceptions, such as during the Little Lord Fauntleroy craze, the Saturday matinee is but a slimly attended and often does not pay expenses. As for Wednesday matinees, so popular in some cities, they have been tried a few times here with a uniform want of success.

The ladies of the Russian Art Club are evidently determined to do nothing by halves and have engaged the Grand Opera-house for the first lecture of the course under their auspices. The celebrated Siberian traveler, George Kennan, will have the honor of opening the ball.

It is an admitted fact on the part of the local managers that the Saturday matinee is a failure. It is a failure. With very few exceptions, such as during the Little Lord Fauntleroy craze, the Saturday matinee is but a slimly attended and often does not pay expenses. As for Wednesday matinees, so popular in some cities, they have been tried a few times here with a uniform want of success.

While the managers recognize the evil, they are slow to admit the only remedy for it, which is to lower the price of admission. If this were done, the Saturday matinee would be a success. The Saturday matinee is a failure. It is a failure. With very few exceptions, such as during the Little Lord Fauntleroy craze, the Saturday matinee is but a slimly attended and often does not pay expenses. As for Wednesday matinees, so popular in some cities, they have been tried a few times here with a uniform want of success.

The ladies of the Russian Art Club are evidently determined to do nothing by halves and have engaged the Grand Opera-house for the first lecture of the course under their auspices. The celebrated Siberian traveler, George Kennan, will have the honor of opening the ball.

It is an admitted fact on the part of the local managers that the Saturday matinee is a failure. It is a failure. With very few exceptions, such as during the Little Lord Fauntleroy craze, the Saturday matinee is but a slimly attended and often does not pay expenses. As for Wednesday matinees, so popular in some cities, they have been tried a few times here with a uniform want of success.

While the managers recognize the evil, they are slow to admit the only remedy for it, which is to lower the price of admission. If this were done, the Saturday matinee would be a success. The Saturday matinee is a failure. It is a failure. With very few exceptions, such as during the Little Lord Fauntleroy craze, the Saturday matinee is but a slimly attended and often does not pay expenses. As for Wednesday matinees, so popular in some cities, they have been tried a few times here with a uniform want of success.

The ladies of the Russian Art Club are evidently determined to do nothing by halves and have engaged the Grand Opera-house for the first lecture of the course under their auspices. The celebrated Siberian traveler, George Kennan, will have the honor of opening the ball.

It is an admitted fact on the part of the local managers that the Saturday matinee is a failure. It is a failure. With very few exceptions, such as during the Little Lord Fauntleroy craze, the Saturday matinee is but a slimly attended and often does not pay expenses. As for Wednesday matinees, so popular in some cities, they have been tried a few times here with a uniform want of success.

While the managers recognize the evil, they are slow to admit the only remedy for it, which is to lower the price of admission. If this were done, the Saturday matinee would be a success. The Saturday matinee is a failure. It is a failure. With very few exceptions, such as during the Little Lord Fauntleroy craze, the Saturday matinee is but a slimly attended and often does not pay expenses. As for Wednesday matinees, so popular in some cities, they have been tried a few times here with a uniform want of success.

The ladies of the Russian Art Club are evidently determined to do nothing by halves and have engaged the Grand Opera-house for the first lecture of the course under their auspices. The celebrated Siberian traveler, George Kennan, will have the honor of opening the ball.

It is an admitted fact on the part of the local managers that the Saturday matinee is a failure. It is a failure. With very few exceptions, such as during the Little Lord Fauntleroy craze, the Saturday matinee is but a slimly attended and often does not pay expenses. As for Wednesday matinees, so popular in some cities, they have been tried a few times here with a uniform want of success.

While the managers recognize the evil, they are slow to admit the only remedy for it, which is to lower the price of admission. If this were done, the Saturday matinee would be a success. The Saturday matinee is a failure. It is a failure. With very few exceptions, such as during the Little Lord Fauntleroy craze, the Saturday matinee is but a slimly attended and often does not pay expenses. As for Wednesday matinees, so popular in some cities, they have been tried a few times here with a uniform want of success.

The ladies of the Russian Art Club are evidently determined to do nothing by halves and have engaged the Grand Opera-house for the first lecture of the course under their auspices. The celebrated Siberian traveler, George Kennan, will have the honor of opening the ball.

It is an admitted fact on the part of the local managers that the Saturday matinee is a failure. It is a failure. With very few exceptions, such as during the Little Lord Fauntleroy craze, the Saturday matinee is but a slimly attended and often does not pay expenses. As for Wednesday matinees, so popular in some cities, they have been tried a few times here with a uniform want of success.

IS IT "CLOTHES" THAT YOU SEEK?

WE'VE GOT 'EM!

And the very best. That is our bid for your trade: Superior goods, the best of materials, the best workmanship, the most stylish cuts, and everything at popular prices. The idea uppermost in your minds is to get something good and serviceable at the very lowest price. With all of you it comes down to a question of

THE RIGHT PLACE TO GO!

COME TO US

—AND YOU WILL BE—

All our goods are sold with a guarantee. Satisfaction given to every person not pleased with their purchase. We aim to give you your money's worth, if you fail to get it we will make it right, if you let us know it.

CAN WE DO MORE?

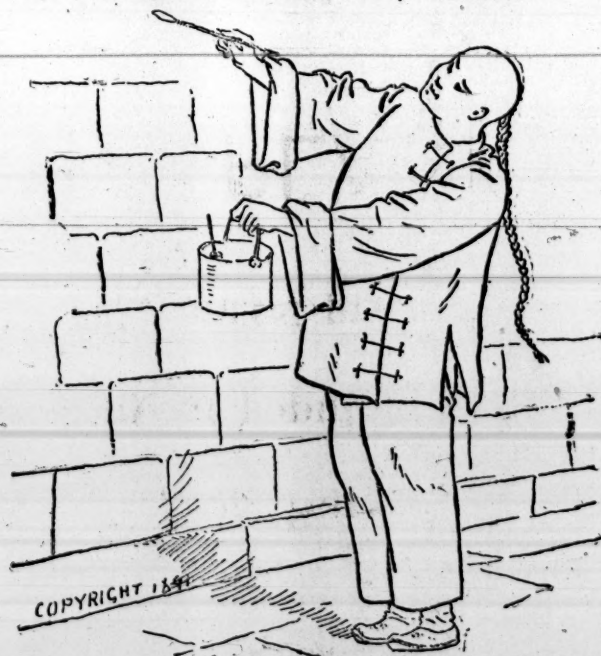

There is no trouble in deciding that you want good clothes cheap, but a great deal of trouble in deciding what clothing house will do the best by its customers in this direction

We Will!

That's to the point, is it not? And why not say it when we have the GOODS and PRICES that will back this statement every time? He will be a hard man to please who fails to make a selection from our

NEW FALL STOCK

THE APERT LACE-NT OWN

CAN YOU READ IT?

—This cut represents our artist, Ah-Magin, painting signs for us.

HERE IS A

SATISFIED CUSTOMER

—MAKING—

IN OUR

BOYS' DEPARTMENT

We have had the reputation for years of keeping the best assortment in Southern California and the choicest styles.

You will be convinced, on paying us a visit, that we have this fall made selections that will maintain our reputation. Don't fail to see the nobby things

IN CHILDREN'S HATS.

C
L
O
T
H
I
N
G

Our stock grades from low to high.

We Can Suit You All

BE YOU FAT OR TALL!

THIS APPLIES TO

OVERCOATS

As Well as Suits and Pants.

Should You Want
a Low-Priced Suit

FOR WORK OR BUSINESS

We can please you perfectly and from that point up straight through the intermediate grades to the finest

DRESS SUITS

C
L
O
T
H
I
N
G

LONDON CLOTHING COMPANY

CORNER SPRING AND TEMPLE STS.

CROP REPORTS FROM ALL OVER SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA ARE VERY FAVORABLE.

THE BOUNTY ON AMERICAN SUGAR LEADS TO TALK OF THE ANNEXATION OF HAWAII.

TENTH YEAR.

SIXTEEN PAGES.

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1891.

MERCANTILE EDITION.

PRICE: SINGLE COPIES, 5 CENTS.

ONLY A FEW DAYS REMAINING

—FOR YOU TO BUY—

ALESSANDRO LAND
AT $110 PER ACRE

October 1st the price will be advanced.

THE ALESSANDRO TRACT

Before deciding. The B. V. I. Co. are selling today by the acre. By and by 'twill be by the front foot. Send for correct map and full particulars, or call on

THEODORE CLARK,
Manager Land Department.

Bear Valley Irrigation Co., Redlands, Cal.

To parties living at a distance, who can not make immediate selection, will say, all orders received on or before October 1st, accompanied by a cash payment of $5 per acre, will be entered at $110; selection and balance of first payment to be made within 30 days.

Parties desiring land to sow to grain will please address THEO. CLARK at Redlands, or apply to I. S. T. TAYLOR, engineer in charge, at Company's headquarters, Alessandro station.

CARPETS,
FURNITURE AND UPHOLSTERY

We have just received our new line of Carpets and Rugs, the design and coloring of which are all that can be desired by those who wish to harmonize their floor coverings with the artistic decorations and draperies now in use.

Axminster, Wiltons, Moquettes, Brussels, Tapestries, Ingrains, beautiful and durable, Velvet Pile Carpets, our own special patterns, moderate in price, in single and double widths. In Furniture we are showing a choice selection of goods for drawing-room, library, chamber, dining-room and hall.

UPHOLSTERY GOODS—This department presents unusual attractions, both in the novelty and beauty of the many fabrics designed for Furniture Coverings, Draperies, Curtains, Portiers, etc.

A cordial invitation is extended to all desiring to inspect the novelties in our various departments.

LOS ANGELES FURNITURE CO.,

351-353 NORTH MAIN ST., Opp. Baker Block.

ORANGE LAND.

The Gov. Stoneman Home Tract

It is well adapted to the growth of Citrus Fruits. Since this property was put upon the market three local nursery men have purchased tracts to set out nursery stock upon. These men know all about the soil and the unfailing water supply. Without good soil and plenty of water their enterprise would prove a failure. There are still some choice tracts for sale.

F. Q. Story of Alhambra has purchased ten acres, which he intends setting next spring to Orange groves.

Among the purchasers of the Gov. Stoneman Home Tract, since it was put upon the market, we are pleased to mention, among others, Attorney J. A. Graves, P. Q. Story, E. Pollard and J. C. Wallace, whose sagacity for good bargains is admitted by all who know them. These gentlemen reside in the vicinity of this tract, and know all about the title, the property, and all the conditions surrounding it—having lived in the vicinity for years. These facts being known should set at rest all idle rumors concerning it. If parties will call upon EADLEY & CONGER, No. 30 Bryson-Bonbrake Block, Los Angeles, or No. 59 East Colorado Street, Pasadena, they can see plans of the tract and also learn of the lots unsold. To such, we can now assure them that there are still some of the most desirable portions remaining. We ask parties to investigate. The agents will take pleasure in giving information and showing them over the property.

The Latest Novelty

Ladies' 3-Wheeled Phaeton.

An improvement that will revolutionize the Carriage business. Its advantages plain to every body and seen at a glance. Easy to get into or out of, soft no skirts can be turned in its own length.

Now on exhibition at the Chamber of Commerce. For sale by G. ROUVY, Maker and Inventor.

323 W. Sixth st. Los Angeles, Cal.

I. T. MARTIN,
—DEALER IN—
NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
Carpets, Mattresses and Stoves.

Prices low for spot cash or will sell on installment.

431 South Spring st.
(Between 10th and 5th sts.)
Telephone 981. P. O. Box 1921.

AUCTION!

John C. Bell & Co.,
Real estate and general auctioneers and appraisers. Office, 234 S. Los Angeles st.

FROM BERLIN.

Apologizing for Lending Money to Russia.

An American on the Marching Powers of the German Army.

Entire Failure of the Efforts to Produce a General Strike.

Restoration of Von Waldersee to Imperial Favor—Admission of the First American Port—Prof. Winescheid's Conversion.

By Telegram to the Times.
BERLIN, Sept. 26.—[Copyright, 1891, by the New York Associated Press.] The government finds it necessary to explain its policy of permitting German banks to take a part of the new Russian loan. The unanimity of press protests convinced Von Caprivi that it will be a grave political error if a denial is not made of the rumors circulated by the syndicate, that the loan has the tacit sanction of the government.

The North German Gazette, the official organ, publishes a communication to-night in which it denies that the government is in any wise departing from the path of political finance which it has always trodden. The Mendelssohns made confidential inquiries from the foreign office as to the attitude of the government toward the issue. In reply the foreign office informed the bankers present that the political situation afforded no occasion for the government to interfere in any form. The Chancellor did not design in his reply to convey the slightest idea of approval. The bankers, the reply declared, are in most cases perfectly capable of acting upon their own judgment. This semi-official statement wants frankness in suppressing the fact that German houses, before joining the syndicate, were led to believe that the foreign office favored the issue of the loan here as a political ground. Public clamor against supplementing cash advances of Germany's enemy, has obliged Von Caprivi to drop his complacency toward the loan. It will not go here, and it is probable that the government never intended it to succeed.

The committee of Reichsbank held an unusually prolonged meeting today and decided not to increase the bank's rate of discount. The American demand for bullion is in the meantime far below what it was expected to be.

It is reported that Emperor William, who is at a shooting lodge near Eydtkuhnen, met the train conveying the Czar on his trip to Russia from Denmark and had a conversation with him.

The Post tonight, referring to Von Waldersee's restoration to imperial favor, states that the Emperor has nominated him to the command of the 10th Corps. This will keep Von Waldersee in Berlin and give him the ear of the Emperor, with whom he will have greater influence than ever.

In an interview Capt. Bingham, a military attaché of the American legation here, who has just returned from the German military maneuvers, detailed upon the courtesy he had received from the German authorities, who gave him every opportunity to see everything of interest. Capt. Bingham said he was greatly impressed by the wonderful uniformity of training shown by the soldiers on parade as well as the field. The marching power of the German army, he declared, was almost incredible. Speaking of the fighting qualities of the army, Capt. Bingham said that the main factor in real war is the marching quality of the men, adding: "When you can count on having your forces always on hand at the right moment you can win by force of numbers." Capt. Bingham spoke in the highest terms of praise of Emperor William's untiring energies in the saddle. His Majesty, he said, took the field 4 a.m. and remained until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Even the Emperor, who attended the reviews, remained in the saddle for four hours, although the heat and dust were stifling. The smilingly saluted the troops as they passed, and the soldiers with the greatest enthusiasm. In conclusion Capt. Bingham said he learned enough of value and interest to the American army to compensate him for a fortnight's fatigue and hard riding.

A dinner was given tonight by Minister Phelps to ex-United States Senator Warner Miller, Mrs. Miller and Miss Miller. There were present Chancellor von Caprivi, Herr von Berlepsch, Prussian Minister of Commerce, Secretary Rittenberg, Mr. Menoagli, chief engineer of the Nicaragua Canal Company, Baroness Berlepsch, Mmes. Bingham and Richter, Misses Halstead and Phelps, and the British and French Charges d'Affaires.

During the progress of the dinner a dispatch was received from Mr. Johnson, American Consul at Hamburg, which was read aloud by Mr. Phelps. The message read: "The first American pork certificate was presented at Hamburg today for fifty-four cases from Chicago. Other shipments are in port and many on the way." Minister Phelps told the guests if they could hold their appetites for a few hours they could have a course of American pork. The published stories regarding the conversion of Prof. Winescheid, of Leipzig, to Protestantism, are not exactly accurate. His conversion was not entirely due to his disapproval of the exhibition of the "Holy Coat." The facts are the Professor joined the old Catholic movement in 1870, since which time he has been disassociated with the Catholic Church.

The reported Socialist strike discloses an entire lack of organization which were being arranged to bring about a strike in all trades. Since the formation of the strike committee, thirty-one strikes have been organized, and in every case the labor party was defeated. The committee complained of want of foreign support.

Prisoners Escaped.
St. Louis, Sept. 26.—It has just been discovered that four prisoners escaped from Jefferson Barracks Thursday. One has been recaptured.

THE COAL INDUSTRY.

Enormous Output of the Mines of the United States.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—[By the Associated Press.] The Census Office today issued a bulletin on the coal product of the United States. It shows the coal product of the United States reached a total of 141,229,413 short tons in the census year, and was valued at the mines, before and expenses for shipment, at $142,226,238. The product included 45,000,487 short tons of Pennsylvania and other anthracite coal, worth $65,879,514; and 95,629,026 short tons of bituminous and lignite, valued at $76,346,724. The average value of all saleable grades of anthracite was $1.58 per ton at the mines, and the average for bituminous coal was 90 cents per short ton at the mines. In 1880 the total product included 28,049,012 short tons of anthracite and 42,881,758 short tons of bituminous coal. The value of the entire product was $95,640,896. The product increased 97.57 per cent. during the decade, and the total value 67.53 per cent.

The total number of persons engaged in the industry was 299,559, who received in the aggregate $109,180,928 as wages.

"ONE BY ONE THE ROSES FALL."

The Pacific Rolling Mill Company Loses Its Manager.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—[Special.] The directors of the Pacific Rolling Mill Company, of which James G. Fair is president and holder of the controlling interest, has displaced L. B. Benchley as manager. Benchley has held a prominent place in the corporation for many years. It is understood that the cause of his removal grew out of Benchley's transactions in connection with the rolling mills' contract for building a section of the Consolidated Electric Railway of Los Angeles. Fair was greatly dissatisfied with the contract, which was made without his knowledge, and was not warranted by the company's by-laws, and he then determined upon the change which has just been made. Benchley's successor has not yet been announced.

RACING NEWS.

Tudden Death of a Famous Trotting Stallion.

Yesterday's Meetings at Chicago, Gravesend and Cincinnati—Close of the Contra Costa County Fair at Martinez.

By Telegram to the Times.
FRANKLIN (Pa.), Sept. 26.—[By the Associated Press.] St. Bell, one of the most famous trotting stallions in the United States, died here today of colic. He was owned by Miller & Sibley and valued at $100,000. His full brother Bellboy was sold at auction two years ago for $51,000, before their sire Electioneer on their farm. Beautiful Bells had become a favorite of St. Bell was bred at Stanford's farm in California.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Mile: Pollard won, Duotero second, Rinit third; time 1:43½. Mile and one-eighth: Goldo won, Kenwood second, Longlight third; time 1:55½. Six furlongs: Hominy Bill won, Lucinda second, Warren Leland third; time 1:15½. Five furlongs: Queen Olivia won, Guess second, Cruikshank third; time 1:04½. Mile: Estelle won, Getaway second, Lew Carlie third; time 1:42½. Mile and a quarter, over five hurdles: Winslow won, Joe D second, Robinson third; time 2:35½.

GRAVESEND, Sept. 26.—Six furlongs: Rosa II won, Terrier second, Tormentor third; time 1:47½. Handicap mile and 1 furlong: Russell won, Strathmeath second, Senorita third; time 1:54½. Holly Handicap, 6 furlongs: Gurt Gunn won, Fred Lee second, Charade third; time 1:15.

Mile and one-eighth: Judge Morrow won, Kingston second, Peter I third; time 1:50½. Five and one-half furlongs: Gullino won, Pamphile second, St. Caroline third; time 1:09. Mile and 16 furlongs: Miss Belle won, Laird second, Melanie third; time 1:50½.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 26.—Mile and 70 yards: Col. Weather won, Harry Weldon second, Grandpa third; time 1:47. Mile and 70 yards: Hopeful won, Patrick second, Philors third; time 1:49½. Mile and one-eighth: Whitney won, Anna second, Business third; time 1:55½. Mile: Lillian Beatrice won, Maiden second, Port Blaise third; time 1:43½. Five furlongs: Harry Weldon won, Sally Taylor second, Ollie Clean third; time 1:03.

Five furlongs: Purvear D won, Rally second, Bulwark third; time 1:04. CONTRA COSTA FAIR.

MARTINEZ, Sept. 26.—The Thirty-first Annual Fair of Contra Costa county came to a close today.

First race, pacing: Silverleaf won, Judge second, best time 2:38. Second race: Alexa won, Gilded second; best time 2:30.

A Woman Whipped.
INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 26.—A Bird's Eye, Ind., special says: "Mrs. Harmon, a woman of loose character living at Monterey, was last night visited by a body of thirty men who tied her to a post and applied fifty lashes to her bare body. Her body was cut from head to foot, as if by a knife. Across her abdomen is a gash twelve inches long and so deep as to leave the bowels exposed. The community is enraged that such an awful thing should have happened."

Another Railroad Collision.
INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 26.—The west-bound limited mail on the Pan Handle today struck a carriage at the crossing near Centerville, Ind., in which was Joseph Black, his wife and two daughters. Black, his wife and one daughter were killed and the other daughter fatally injured. They were on the way attend the races at Cambridge.

An Extraordinary Session.
HARRISBURG (Pa.), Sept. 26.—Gov. Pattison has issued a proclamation convening the Senate in extraordinary session October 13, to make inquiry of the charges against the Auditor-General and State Treasurer, and to ascertain whether a reasonable cause exists for their removal.

THE POOR JEWS

The Russian Government Finds an Apologist.

They Have, He Says, Broken Laws of Which They Knew.

Baron Hirsch's Scheme Would Only Provide for 3 Per Cent.

The Russian Government will Never Allow the Sturdier Class to Leave the Country—The Others are Paupers.

By Telegram to the Times.
LONDON, Sept. 26.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] In "Darkness Russia" the author points out that Baron Hirsch's scheme if successful can only provide for about 3 per cent. of the Russian Jews.

A letter which appeared in the anti-Jacobin and which was signed an "Israelite Wanderer" has been published in the papers and it is attracting attention. It strongly defends Russia, and declares that the laws relating to the Jews are by no means so iniquitous as imagined. Referring to the domicile law, this letter says it has never been altered, but has been operated with so little rigor that one-third of the Jews reside today in the government from which they were excluded a quarter of a century ago. This, he says, is a sign of the gradual improvement which is to be expected from a semi-civilized country like Russia. Continuing, the writer says, "Twenty thousand Jews reside in St. Petersburg and a similar number in Moscow. The expulsions," he adds, "are entirely due to Jewish violations of the law. The mechanic's certificates had been forged, fraudulent police permits printed and a regular trade in them prosecuted for years. Certificates have also been used long after the original grantee was dead, and thousands of Jews without means or trade have settled in Russia, where they had no more right than a pauper emigrant has to land in New York. Numbers of mechanics have forsaken their regular occupations and have taken to peddling, thus violating the conditions under which they were allowed to settle. Between one hundred and fifty and two hundred thousand Jews now reside in Russia in open violation of the law, owing to fraudulent permits or by bribing officials. Being undisturbed, they have become more confident and invested money in houses, which is against the law, and then when orders were received to enforce the domicile law the outside world hears of wholesale expulsions accompanied by brutality, but every Jew so expelled has courted his fate. They all know what they are doing when they pass the pale of their domicile."

"The poor Jews suffer most from the rigor of the law, being as peddlers and such like, at the mercy of every petty official by whom they are hounded from pillar to post. If Baron Hirsch's scheme includes these poor Jews it takes up most unpromising material to deal with. They have neither physique nor field nor resource of any kind. They and their families must be supported from the moment they leave Russia until the indefinite date when they can maintain themselves unaided. The government will not allow the capable, sturdy, better class who are all military reservists to leave the country."

THE NYMPHS AND THETIS are now in port. They cruised recently 8000 miles without seeing anything.

There is a great scarcity of coal here. The steamer Al-Ki, with United States Marines, cannot return to San Francisco until a supply arrives.

H. M. S. Porpoise sailed for China August 26. The U. S. S. Marion sailed September 7 for Honolulu, and the U. S. S. Alert on the 10th via Petropolski. The Mohican and Thetis will remain in Bering Sea until October.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL STATEMENT.

A Large Sum Turned into the Illinois State Treasury.
CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—[By the Associated Press.] The forty-first annual report of the Illinois Central Railroad Company issued today for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1891, shows the gross earnings for the year to be $17,881,554, an increase of $1,429,532 over the preceding year. The operating expenses and taxes amounted to $12,761,046, an increase of $1,607,694, leaving net earnings of $5,120,508, a decrease of $178,094. The net receipts, taking into account the road sales and miscellaneous profits and income from investments amounted to $6,529,559 out of which has been paid the interest of the funded debt, sinking fund bonds, rent of Chicago, St. Louis and New Orleans, and Dubuque and Sioux City railroads, and 5 per cent dividend, leaving $210,926 to be carried forward to the surplus dividend fund. An item of interest is the statement that the company has turned into the Illinois State treasury during the year $59,949, which is the largest sum yet paid to the State to any one year.

OKLAHOMA.

Matters Lively around the ~~State~~ of Chandler.

GUTHRIE, (O. T.), Sept. 26.—Couriers report about thirty stores running in tents at a temporary town near Chandler. Also that Col. Taylor of Clinton, Mo., has the Bank of Oklahoma in full operation.

Allen Johnson rode so hard for a claim that his horse dropped dead, falling on him and killing him.

Last night the cow boys sneaked into Chandler and destroyed scores of stakes, which will delay the survey and the town will not be opened before Monday.

The crowd is getting restless and many incendiary speeches are being made.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Sept. 24.—The scenes here tonight equal those of the day. Several thousand people who located claims have come here to file and obtain a rest, gambling houses of every description are running wide open. On one corner a Salvation Army man is holding forth and just across the street is a gambling table crowded with anxious players.

The First China Sugar.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has received the first 100 pounds of beet sugar made under the sugar bounty clause of the tariff law, the product of the China Valley Sugar Company, of China, Cal. The sugar is prime of quality and beautiful in color.

BASEBALL.

Yesterday's League and Association Games.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26.—[By the Associated Press.] The home team could not bat; visitors fine fielding also assisted them to win today's game. Cleveland, 4; Cincinnati, 7.

BOSTON, Sept. 26.—The visitors errors gave Boston the game. Boston, 8; Philadelphia, 6.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Today's game called at the end of the eighth inning on account of darkness, each club having scored 6 runs.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 26.—Two games today, the Giants easily winning both. First: New York, 10; Brooklyn, 4. Second game: Brooklyn, 5; New York, 13.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 26.—Louisville, 7; St. Louis, 2.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26.—Athletic, 14; Washington, 4. Called at the end of the eighth inning on account of darkness.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 26.—Milwaukee, 5; Columbus, 0. Game called at the end of the eighth inning on account of darkness.

CALIFORNIA GAMES.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—Game between Oakland and San Francisco today was a miserable affair, the latter winning by a score of 12 to 8.

SAN JOSE, Sept. 26.—Game today between Sacramento and San Jose resulted in a tie, the score for Sacramento by a score of 10 to 1.

Standing of the Clubs.
CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—The following is the standing of League and American Association clubs at the conclusion of today's games:

League.	Association.
Chicago..... 658	Boston..... 663
Boston..... 615	St. Louis..... 624
New York..... 569	Baltimore..... 535
Philadelphia..... 519	Athletic..... 519
Cleveland..... 455	Columbus..... 459
Brooklyn..... 414	Milwaukee..... 450
Pittsburgh..... 425	Washington..... 323
Cincinnati..... 379	Louisville..... 388

FROM OUNALASKA.

The Sealing Season Now About Over—A Long Cruise.

A Great Scarcity of Coal at Ounalaska—United States Marines Unable to Return to St. Francisco.

By Telegram to the Times.
VICTORIA (B. O.), Sept. 25.—[By the Associated Press.] An Ounalaska letter of September 15, received here by H. M. S. Pheasant says the sealing season is about over. The skins are not worth tanning, now being in a condition called "staggy." This continues until November, when a series of raids on the seal islands are expected. Active cruising, therefore, is suspended now.

The Nymphs and Thetis are now in port. They cruised recently 8000 miles without seeing anything.

There is a great scarcity of coal here. The steamer Al-Ki, with United States Marines, cannot return to San Francisco until a supply arrives.

H. M. S. Porpoise sailed for China August 26. The U. S. S. Marion sailed September 7 for Honolulu, and the U. S. S. Alert on the 10th via Petropolski. The Mohican and Thetis will remain in Bering Sea until October.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL STATEMENT.

A Large Sum Turned into the Illinois State Treasury.
CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—[By the Associated Press.] The forty-first annual report of the Illinois Central Railroad Company issued today for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1891, shows the gross earnings for the year to be $17,881,554, an increase of $1,429,532 over the preceding year. The operating expenses and taxes amounted to $12,761,046, an increase of $1,607,694, leaving net earnings of $5,120,508, a decrease of $178,094. The net receipts, taking into account the road sales and miscellaneous profits and income from investments amounted to $6,529,559 out of which has been paid the interest of the funded debt, sinking fund bonds, rent of Chicago, St. Louis and New Orleans, and Dubuque and Sioux City railroads, and 5 per cent dividend, leaving $210,926 to be carried forward to the surplus dividend fund. An item of interest is the statement that the company has turned into the Illinois State treasury during the year $59,949, which is the largest sum yet paid to the State to any one year.

OKLAHOMA.

Matters Lively around the ~~State~~ of Chandler.

GUTHRIE, (O. T.), Sept. 26.—Couriers report about thirty stores running in tents at a temporary town near Chandler. Also that Col. Taylor of Clinton, Mo., has the Bank of Oklahoma in full operation.

Allen Johnson rode so hard for a claim that his horse dropped dead, falling on him and killing him.

Last night the cow boys sneaked into Chandler and destroyed scores of stakes, which will delay the survey and the town will not be opened before Monday.

The crowd is getting restless and many incendiary speeches are being made.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Sept. 24.—The scenes here tonight equal those of the day. Several thousand people who located claims have come here to file and obtain a rest, gambling houses of every description are running wide open. On one corner a Salvation Army man is holding forth and just across the street is a gambling table crowded with anxious players.

The First China Sugar.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has received the first 100 pounds of beet sugar made under the sugar bounty clause of the tariff law, the product of the China Valley Sugar Company, of China, Cal. The sugar is prime of quality and beautiful in color.

LILUOKALANI.

The Queen is Not Favoring the English.

An ex-Attorney-General of Hawaii Tells About the Islands.

Sentiment in Favor of Annexation to the United States.

Mr. Thurston Admits That the Planters Would Like to Get the Benefit of the American Sugar Bounty Law.

By Telegram to the Times.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—[By the Associated Press.] Ex-Attorney-General Thurston, of Hawaii, is in the city. In speaking of the project of the annexation of the islands to this country he says: "There is a deep underlying sentiment in Hawaii in favor of an annexation to the United States. Even the native Hawaiian paper Ka Leo is pronounced in favor thereof. This is the first time the Hawaiians have been in favor of it. It would be going too far to say that the sentiment as a whole is in favor of annexation, but there is a very strong undercurrent, and it is growing."

"It is believed there that so far as the sugar business is concerned, annexation would bring the islands under the benefit of the bounty law. Our sugar interests have been so demoralized by the McKinley Bill, involving, as it also does, our labor problem, that there is feeling that something must be done. It is not thought that the annexation of the islands would be in any way an infringement of the Monroe doctrine. Hawaii is directly in the path from San Francisco to the Orient, and a straight line drawn from the end of the proposed Nicaragua Canal to Hong Kong strikes the islands squarely in the center. I see by the papers I have received, and have learned from correspondence from the islands, together with conversations with persons just arrived from there, that the sentiment for annexation is growing, and it seems to be the definite opinion that it is certain to come. The statement that Queen Liluokalani is favoring the English in any way is an error."

Two Old Fellows.
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26.—The Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows took up the question of reducing the age of limit for admission to the order to 18 years this morning. It was defeated by a vote of 107 to 58. The lodge also postponed for a year the consideration of the liquor question.

Quarrelled over a Boundary.
HENDERSON (Minn.), Sept. 26.—James O'Neill this afternoon killed Michael Collins, fatally wounding his two grown sons and was himself wounded. The cause was a quarrel over a division line between two farms.

Star Reading.
In life's vast firmament, whose central sun is Love, compelling words to own his way, Unnumbered planets hold their whirling way.

There Duty on her daily round doth run, Whom Comfort, Thrift, Enjoyment, linked as one, Her constant satellites, attend, obey. There lawless Pleasure's meteoric ray In sudden night expires. There Joy, outdone in flight by Grief, slow steps, eclipsed; there burns

The morrow's star of Hope immortally; There Faith her lustrous beacon nightly turns Upon Doubt's troubled waters. Grand and true Aspiration in far realms alone, Fixed like the polar star, upon her throne. [Marcus M. Solomon in Women's Journal.]

A Remarkable Fig. (Texas Sitings).
A newly-married lady, who recently graduated from Vassar College, is not well posted about household matters. She said to her grocer not long since: "I bought three or four hams here a couple of months ago, and they were very fine. Have you any more like them?"

"Yes, ma'am," said the grocer; "there are ten of those hams hanging up there."

"Are you sure they are all the same pig?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Then I'll take three of them."

Not a Temperance Sermon. (Boston Herald.)

The New York Herald who started to visit the restaurant

THE ITATA LIBEL.

Taking of Testimony Before Commissioner Owen.

Capt. Mannen Corroborates the Purser's Clerk.

Each and Every Allegation of the Libel Denied.

Two Supreme Court Decisions Received for Filing—The Chinese Murder Trial Ends with a Hung Jury—General Court Notes.

The taking of the depositions of the officers of the Chilean steamship Itata, who are the principal witnesses for the respondents in the libel suit pending against that vessel, was resumed before United States Commissioner Owen yesterday.

John McKenzie, the second mate, and Capt. Pedro Mannen were the only witnesses examined during the day, the latter being upon the stand the most of the time. Their testimony was merely a corroboration of that given by the purser and his clerks on Friday, although, of course, Capt. Mannen was able to enter into a more detailed account of the ship's movements than were his subordinates. The most important matter brought out during his testimony was the fact that he denied that he was ever served with any legal process by Marshal Gard when that official seized the Itata at San Diego on May 6, the only paper shown him when he demanded the Marshal's authority for the seizure being an unofficial letter produced by Gard.

He denied each and every allegation contained in the libel, and displayed a remarkable shrewdness in parrying awkward questions when upon the rack for cross-examination.

At the close of his testimony an adjournment was taken until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when it is probable that Capt. Tejada will be examined.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

Two opinions were received from headquarters by Deputy Clerk Ashmore of the Supreme Court yesterday for filing in this city.

The first is that of Justice Patterson reversing the judgment and order of the trial court and remanding the case of Lugo (appellant) vs. De Toro (respondent) for a new trial. This is an action against respondent and several other defendants for partition of a tract of land known as the Rancho Mission (or ex-Mission) of San Diego, a patent to which issued from the United States to Santiago Arguello, or his legal representatives on September 18, 1876. The case has been up to the Supreme Court before and was reversed (70 Cal. 339), but although the complaint was amended, the amendment did not state a new cause of action. The opinion is concurred in by Justices Harrison, Sharpstein and Garoutte, but Chief Justice Beatty files a dissenting opinion, and Justice De Haven concurs therein.

Justice McFarland also dissents and adheres to his former opinion (18 Pac. Rep. 866).

The judgment and order in the case of De Guyer et al. (appellants) vs. Banning (respondent), are affirmed in accordance with the opinion of Justice De Haven, which is concurred in by Justices McFarland, Harrison, Garoutte, Sharpstein and Beatty. This is an action to recover possession of a tract of land known as Mormon Island, lying within the exterior boundaries of the Inner Bay of San Pedro, which plaintiffs claimed as a part of the Rancho San Pedro, but the latter being marked "excepted" on the map accompanying the United States patent, through which plaintiffs derive title, the judgment ordered for defendants by the Superior Court is sustained.

RESULTED IN A MISTRIAL.

The jury in the Sier Yuen case, after having been locked up for eighteen hours, was summoned before Judge Smith in Department One at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and it being ascertained that the jurors were disagreed upon questions of fact, they were sent back to their room for further deliberation. At 3:15 o'clock in the afternoon they were again taken into court, and there being no possibility of an agreement, they were discharged. Four of the twelve stood out for conviction.

THE PEARLEY FORGEY.

In Department Six yesterday morning the case against C. M. Pearley, charged with having furnished and delivered a certain forged message to be sent by telegraph, came up for hearing on demurrer before Judge McKinley. At the close of the argument, however, the demurrer was disallowed by the Court, and the defendant was called upon to plead. His plea of not guilty having been duly entered, the case was set down for trial on October 7 next.

RECEIVED IN WAGES.

In Department Four yesterday the case of Kate Koehler against Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Andrews, a suit to recover $148.70, alleged to be due as wages for services rendered by plaintiff as cook and general housemaid from November 7, 1888, to December 21, 1890, came up for trial before Judge Van Dyke, and resulted in a judgment for plaintiff for $870, the statute of limitations pleaded by the defendants, alone preventing the recovery of the balance of the amount claimed.

THE WONG ARK BONDSMEN.

The matter of the application of Ah Tet and the other Wong Ark witnesses charged with perjury for their release upon writs of habeas corpus, and the evidence against them was purely secondary, came up for hearing before Judge Smith in Department One yesterday morning, and at the close of the argument was by the Court taken under advisement.

Court Notes.

Judge Smith yesterday denied the application of the Earnst for his release from the custody of the Chief of Police on a writ of habeas corpus, and remanded the petitioner, who will serve the remainder of his sentence of thirty days on the chain-gang.

Upon motion of counsel for the defendant, the hearing of the case against John Dempsey, who was convicted of battery in the Police Court, but was granted a new trial upon an appeal, was continued yesterday by Judge Smith until October 8.

The case against E. W. Doss, recently convicted by Justice Austin of disturbing the peace of Officer Johnson, by calling him a liar, came up for hearing on appeal before Judge Smith yesterday morning, and was taken under advisement.

The trial of the case of Harry Richmond against the Los Angeles Ice and Cold Storage Company, a suit to recover $25,000 damages for injuries received by the explosion of a generator in March, 1890, occupied the attention of Judge

Clark and a jury in Department Two yesterday, and will be taken up again tomorrow.

Special letters of administration to the estate of Ismael Alonzo, deceased, were granted to Public Administrator Field by Judge Clark yesterday. B. F. Bragg, the original administrator having been removed.

By consent of counsel, Judge Clark yesterday ordered judgment for plaintiff in the pleading in the foreclosure suit of M. G. McKinnon vs. Alfred Moore et al.

Judge Wade yesterday granted a decree of divorce to Mrs. Emma E. Clark, her husband, Wilson L. Clark, having deserted her, and allowed the matter to go by default.

When the case of Ward Leavitt vs. Samuel B. Hall, a foreclosure suit, was called for trial before Judge Wade yesterday the defendant objected to the taking of testimony on the ground that the complaint did not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action, which objection was sustained by the Court, who, however, allowed plaintiff ten days' time within which to amend his complaint.

Mr. Cabral, Jose V. Soares, Jose Machado Medino and John Machado Medino, four natives of Portugal from Wilmington, were duly admitted to citizenship of the United States by Judge Wade yesterday, upon producing the necessary proofs of residence here, and taking the requisite oaths of renunciation and allegiance.

The jury in the case of P. Hollenbeck vs. E. C. Schnabel being unable to agree after having been locked up all night, were discharged by Judge Van Dyke, and the case was continued for the session.

The application of G. H. Delp for a divorce from his wife, Annie B. Delp, was denied by Judge McKinley on Friday evening, the case being non-suited.

All the witnesses who had been set for hearing in Department Six on October 1, having been continued at the request of counsel, Judge McKinley yesterday made an order excusing the trial jurors, summoned to appear on that date, until October 6.

Among the documents filed with the County Clerk yesterday were the preliminary papers in the following new cases:

Perry Manufacturing Company vs. J. H. Taylor; suit on claim and deliver to receipt for a truck and delivery cart or $150, the value thereof.

Mrs. Ann Joughlin, executrix, vs. Dan McFarland, et al.; suit to foreclose a mortgage for $49,871.

County of Los Angeles vs. Pablo Reyes; suit to condemn a right-of-way for a road through defendant's property.

Jose de Armas vs. Maria A. C. de Valdez et al.; suit to foreclose a mortgage for $300.

WEATHER AND CROPS.

Weekly Reports from Southern California Counties.

Weather Almost Perfect for Gathering and Drying Fruits—Bean Thrashing in Ventura—Condition of Winter Vegetables.

Following is the weekly weather crop bulletin of Southern California, based on reports from voluntary crop correspondents and published by the United States Weather Bureau, for the week ending September 25:

Buena Vista (S. L. Mack)—Bean thrashing has begun, and the yield in some instances is better than was expected. The small white bean; very few Limas thrashed. The fair is in progress this week, so not much work is being done.

Lancaster (James P. Ward)—Much land is being plowed and seeded to grain. It is estimated that double the average of last year will be put in wheat and barley. A great deal of grain is being held for seed. Ranchers are getting $1.15 for barley and $1.30 for wheat per hundred in the field.

Rodeo de Los Aguas Ranch (H. H. Denker)—Winter vegetables in the frostless beds are growing nicely. Farmers are busy plowing and planting for winter crops. Oranges, lemons and other fruit trees planted at the Soldiers' Home in 1890 have made a good growth. The weather is very favorable for the culture of horticultural experimental station at the Home would be of great benefit to the country, the soil and climate being just what is needed.

Verdugo (J. C. Sherer)—The first part of the week was unfavorable for fruit drying. Peaches are scarce, but few Salways ripe for market. Dried fruit is being preserved; the supply on the market is in excess of the demand.

Pomona (John Watson)—Cloudless skies all week, with one morning. Weather altogether favorable to fruit-gathering, drying and marketing; and to harvesting and marketing of grapes. Grapes are plenty and cheap. We are looking forward to the time when this beautiful San Jacinto Valley will be irrigated by the proposed canal.

San Diego (M. L. Hearner)—Rains curing progress slowly on account of cool weather. Specially cool nights. No damage resulted from the rain on the 20th, as this office warned dryers in time to stack before the rain came. Grapes are plentiful and cheap, except melons, which are becoming rare. An eighth of an inch of rain on the 20th and 21st.

Nathaniel (J. H. Wood)—A sharp rain of an hour's duration on the 20th, caused considerable apprehension among the raisin growers, but with the exception of a very few cloudy days, everything has been most favorable for the product. The picking is about two-thirds finished. Rain on the 24th.

Campo (S. E. Gaskill)—The weather has been very cool and quite windy. Corn has matured well and the crop is good.

Groton (E. E. Buckley)—United States Weather Bureau in charge.

Boyle Heights.

L. E. Laning, and old resident of the Heights, has returned once more after a year's sojourn at San Jacinto, and will again reside on Euclid Hill.

S. M. Perry and family are enjoying a week's outing at Cahuenga Canyon.

The young people's social at Rev. Young's on Friday evening, was a very pleasant affair as well as a profitable one for the Endeavors.

Engine company No. 6 turned out Friday morning and spent several hours on Seventh street, east of the river, sprinkling and wetting down the newly graded thoroughfare.

To those unacquainted with the marvelous growth of trees and plants in this section of the State and Nation, a visit to Prospect Park on Brooklyn Heights, will at any time prove a pleasantly surprising experience. It is now but eight months since the planting was begun, and the growth is so rapid that it can compare favorably, as to horticultural beauty, with any park of the city.

THE CLAY RAPE CASE.

First Day of the Preliminary Examination.

The Child Myrtle Page Tells Her Story in Detail.

Many Inconsistencies Brought Out on Cross-examination.

The Manner in Which the Alleged Crime was Committed—Letters to Mrs. Watson and Mrs. O'Brien—Damaging Admissions.

It will be hard to find in the court records of this State a more disgusting case than the one of the People vs. Daniel Clay, now in progress in Justice Austin's Department of the Police Court. The complaining witness, little Myrtle Page, has just passed her eleventh year and is quite small. The child has good features and would be mistaken for an innocent, refined little girl without any knowledge whatever of the wicked ways of the world, but after she had been on the witness-stand ten minutes the most casual observer could plainly see that her knowledge is something wonderful for one of her years. She has a soft, lisping voice, and at times, with the aid of her natural dramatic ability, she succeeds in working up considerable sympathy among those who hear the hearing of her voice, but the eleven-fold comes to the front whenever the attorneys for the defense corner her, and if she does not exactly give herself away, she says enough to convince her hearers that she is not telling the simple, unvarnished truth.

The defendant, Daniel Clay, is an old Methodist preacher, in his 77th year and if he is in good health his looks and general appearance do not point that way. He is a little old man, with most horrible stories to tell of the old grandfather left the side of his aged wife in the dark hours of a still night and crept into the little cot of this innocent infant and outraged her person in a most brutal manner.

Defense attorney William Blades represented the people, and C. C. Stephens, Esq., and Deputy City Attorney William Dunn appeared for the defendant when the case was called for preliminary examination at 10:30 o'clock, before Justice Austin yesterday morning at 8.

The witnesses were excluded from the courtroom, but the doors were not closed against the public, and long before the case was called standing room was at a premium.

The first witness called for the people was the little girl, who has been in the custody of Mrs. Watson, the manager of the Girls' Home, since she was brought up from the Clay house at San Pedro a few days ago.

The child faced the big audience with all the bravado of an old-time teller and told her story in a cool, calm manner that astonished both court and attorneys.

She stated that she was taken in charge by Mrs. Watson in July last, and was kept there until the 10th inst., when she was sent to the Clay residence in San Pedro. The house was occupied by Mr. Clay and his wife alone. Mrs. Clay is so deaf that it is almost impossible to carry on a conversation with her, and these were her only associates.

She lived with them and did a good share of the work about the house, and was treated well until the night of the 10th inst., when Clay came to her room after everybody had gone to bed. He was in his dress, and after asking her if she had been asleep, he crawled in bed with her and took her in his arms. He immediately began tampering with her and when he hurt her she said "don't," but she did not attempt to get away from him or call for help as she was afraid he would hurt her badly.

She did not speak again and nothing more was said until he got ready to go when he kissed her good night. She did not go to sleep until after 2 o'clock in the morning, and she was in pain from the treatment and found blood on her night dress but she washed it and did not say anything to Mrs. Clay regarding the old man's actions.

Witness was then turned over to the defense and an attempt was made by Mr. Stephens to go into the child's past life, but an objection was made, and after quite a lengthy argument on this point a recess was taken until 2 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The courtroom was again crowded in the afternoon, when court convened and the deepest interest was taken in the testimony of witnesses.

The family of Mr. Clay, the defendant, also appeared in court and watched the proceedings with deep interest.

The girl Myrtle Page was recalled on cross-examination and stated that no one talked with her during the noon recess. When she was with the Clay at San Pedro she wrote four letters, one to Mrs. Watson, two to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She went down on Sunday and wrote to her mother on Monday. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

At this stage she remembered that she wrote two letters to Mrs. Watson, one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, and one to her mother. She got the stamps from Mr. Clay. The letters were written to her sister. She did not receive a reply. The third letter she wrote to Mrs. Watson.

ter, he also handed over the letters in his possession, and stated that he did not wish to do anything to clog the wheels of justice.

Mr. Stephens then proceeded with the cross-examination of the little girl, who stated that when she lived in this city she was not in the habit of staying out on the streets until midnight.

Witness was asked as to how she used to find a grocery at all hours of the night to get beer for her mother and family, but the District Attorney objected and the objection was sustained.

Witness received a letter from Mrs. Watson shortly after she wrote to that person. There was no one about the house but Mr. Clay and his wife. They did not allow her to go out and play on the streets. There were no children around the house. She had to wash and scrub. She wrote to her family that she did not wish to stay where she was. It was on Wednesday night that old man Clay came to her room, and the next day she wrote to Mrs. Watson. The letter she received from Mrs. Watson she thinks was written on the 10th and the answer came in a day or two after, but she did not know what had become of it.

Witness then went over the story as to how Clay entered her room and outraged her. He did not tell her when he left her room to say nothing about the matter, and she could have told what happened but she did not care to. She did not sleep but a little while during the night, and the next day she did not eat anything until evening, when she ate a piece of bread and butter. When she was not working that day she was upstairs playing with her dolls. She did not say anything in her letter to Mrs. Watson about the outrage because they read her letters before she was allowed to send them away. On the following Saturday Clay drew her out of her lap while she was in his room and attempted to tamper with her but she pulled away from him. He caught her again, but he thought he heard Mrs. Clay coming and he pushed her from his lap. On another occasion he was tampering with her when he heard Mrs. Clay coming and he pushed her away. A number of times he did the same thing, but it was always in the daytime, except on the night when he got in her room. He was afraid he would get a whole week without tampering with her, but he pinched her legs every chance he got.

When her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, went to Clay's to take her home on Sunday, she told Mrs. O'Brien all about how Clay had been tampering with her. It was wrong, but nothing more was said on the subject. Mrs. Watson was at the depot to meet them and took her to the home, and she has been there ever since. At the train her sister left her and told Mrs. Watson about her treatment at Clay's. Before she and her sister left Clay's her sister did not say a word to them about the story, and all her sister said to her was that she never knew her to tell a lie.

On the 18th inst. the proceedings of the defendant's attorneys took charge of the letters and asked the Court to excuse them for a few minutes, and they adjourned to a private room, where they made a careful examination of all the letters. The only one that was written the day after the alleged assault, which could not be found.

On the return to the courtroom Mr. Stephens renewed the cross-examination and asked a number of questions regarding the old man's acts on the 10th inst.

Witness was angry all the time she was down there because they (the Clays) told her that her mother gave her to Mrs. Watson. "But that had nothing to do with it," said the child. She wanted to be with her sister. She did not fix the story that her sister would come for her. She would not tell such a story, because it is wrong.

She denied that she ever told her sister that she wanted her to go to Mother Watson and tell her that she (Mrs. O'Brien) was a bad woman and wanted to come and help her take care of Mrs. O'Brien's baby.

One of the letters to Mrs. Watson, written by witness on the 17th, was then offered in evidence. Another one on the day after was to her sister and was offered in evidence.

The letter to Mrs. Watson expressed a desire to go to her sister's, and the one to her sister, Mrs. O'Brien, naps out a story for her to tell Mrs. Watson so that Mrs. Watson will consent to allow her to go. In the letter she refers to how old man Clay treated her as Mrs. O'Brien's "grandfather treated her."

Witness denied that she wrote the story to her sister for the purpose of inducing her to go to Mrs. Watson and get witness away from the Clays.

The reason why she did not write and tell her sister about the matter for a week was because she was afraid she would not give her any paper and stamps.

Witness was then examined to some extent by the prosecution.

On re-cross-examination the witness stated that when she told Mrs. Watson the story that person informed her that she was to go to the court and swear to the facts in the case.

The Court then questioned the witness to a considerable extent and tangled her up to such an extent that she did not even remember what she said in her letter to her sister. She was plain. All the time the old man was in her bed he lay by her side, and she had her limbs crossed.

On the conclusion of the child's testimony a recess was taken until tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock.

A Flock of Guinea Fowls.

A New England woman writing in The Poultry Journal has the following to say in favor of the Guinea fowl, which is a rule, is not popular on account of the quarrelsome nature of the male bird.

A flock of Guinea fowls is a great adjunct to the farm. They make the best sort of watchmen, and never fail to notify the farmer of night thieves or poultry stealers. There is a profit in raising them, considering the enormous amount of grub and expense attached to keeping them. As a rule, the Guinea prefer to pick up most of their living, and they should have a large place over which to range. It is necessary to feed them a little every day, but otherwise they will wander away from the farm and take up their headquarters elsewhere. They will not scratch up seeds planted in the garden, but they do eat a great number of grass seeds, as well as those of undesirable plants. They are an enormous amount of grub and insects, however, which is a great point in their favor. Without any special fattening they become plump and heavy at the season of the year when game goes out of the market. They are generally killed for market between February and April. They bring fair prices at such seasons of the year, and often return big profits to the grower. The Guinea always hide their nests in the nearest hedge or thicket, and it is necessary to look pretty carefully to find them.

A Santa Barbara man intends to bring 100 new varieties of ferns from the mountains of California to the Golden Gate Park, San Francisco.

AFTER HUNSAKER.

A Warrant Out for the Saloon Man's Arrest.

A New Turn in the Rulohvasbasko-Clark Scandal.

The "Countess" Says She Is Out Several Thousand Dollars.

She Says She Gave Hunsaker Money to Buy the Saloon and Run It, but Has Been Unable to Get a Settlement.

Mrs. Count Rulohvasbasko, who has insisted on calling herself Mrs. Clark since she took up her residence in this city a month or two ago, was the maddest little woman in the southern metropolis yesterday when she appeared in the District Attorney's office and demanded a warrant for Ben Hunsaker, the dashing young proprietor of the old Carlton saloon, who, she said, had got away with a vast sum of money, amounting in all to $7500.

Readers of THE TIMES will remember the advent of the Rulohvasbasko-Hunsaker-Clark crowd in this city which was preceded by the Count's sensational article in San Francisco when he presented himself to the Chief of Police of that city with a very young baby which he claimed was the offspring of himself and Mrs. Count Rulohvasbasko-Clark. With tears in his eyes he told how his pretty wife had fallen in love with the Hunsakers, father and son and begged the authorities to take charge of the infant while he chased about the country looking for his false wife.

The Count did not again make his presence known to the public until one fine morning about a week later, when he showed up in Los Angeles and told how he had shadowed the elder Hunsaker and followed him to this city. The old man telegraphed his hopeful who had just opened the old Carlton under the name of the St. Julian with a flourish of trumpets, that the Count was on the trail and would reach the City of Angels the next morning.

Ben and a private detective were at the depot when the train arrived, and while the old man was being hustled off in a hack the detective undertook to make a reduction in rate on all buildings where the auxiliary fire alarm is introduced, and the price at which the instruments will be put in will be placed at such a rate as to leave a handsome margin to subscribers.

Superintendent Hogan, yesterday stated to a TIMES reporter that everything introduced by the company would be of the latest and most improved design. The boxes, in place of having a key, will be automatic. The face is covered with thin glass, which is broken when an alarm is turned in, and nothing more is required. The alarm is sent instantly to the chemical engine houses, the floor of the building and the exact spot where the fire is being kindled. Mr. Hogan stated that the system has been successful wherever it has been introduced, and has been the means of saving hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of property, to say nothing of the saving in lower rates of insurance and the smaller amount necessary to be carried. It is eminently practical, and a little investigation will at once convince any practical man that it is to his advantage to be connected with the system.

Mr. Hogan stated that almost every business man spoken to was favorably impressed with the enterprise, and he was sure it would be a success from the start. The great point is the lower insurance rate, and when this is added the other direct benefits, he does not anticipate any difficulty in getting every business house, hotel, etc., on his subscription list. As stated above, the

LAY SERMONS.

History is a grand teacher. Through men obtain, sometimes, wonderfully clear glimpses of human nature with its frailties and its follies. We often make startling discoveries in regard to ourselves in studying others—discoveries of tendencies, the existence of which we were scarce aware until we were led by observing others to honest and careful inspection of our inner lives. The profoundest depths of our nature are not often stirred, and there lie unsuspected tendencies within us, dormant inclinations, which need but the flint of circumstance to make them flash into activity. Men are often surprised at the intensity of evil passions, which occasion sometimes develops, and at the germs of blighting depravity, the existence of which is oftentimes disclosed only by powerfully exciting causes. In times of sudden danger men frequently have revelations of themselves such as appear to them as individually they exist. "Oh, wretched man that I am, who shall deliver me from the body of this death?" Even the most earnest Christians are unconscious sinners, and probably among their least suspected sins is the tendency to idolatry. This sounds startling, but it is nevertheless true.

Of course it is not the open, conscious idolatry of the heathen world in which they indulge, and from which, in the deepest sincerity, they pray that they may be converted and he brought to a saving knowledge of the truth. We have no temples built to unknown gods; no idols of wood and stone placed upon lofty pedestals, before which we prostrate ourselves in blind worship; but all the same we have no idols which we do worship!

Look into your heart, O Christian professor, and see if God is all in all there. See if you are not pursuing with unthinking and idolatrous devotion the love of wealth, of place or of power. See if there be not within you a more constant yearning for worldly aggrandizement than there is for spiritual advancement. Discover if you have not the love for an earthly friend that is more absorbing than your love for the heavenly Father and your soul's Redeemer.

If it be so, and you are indeed one of God's children, if the spark of Christian love burns ever so feebly within your breast, God's concern will be to do deal with you as to bring you back to Him. He may have to visit you with sorrow and disappointment. He may take the ambitious hopes to which you cling and cover them with failure. He may take the loved ones whom you idolatrously worship from you, leaving you alone and desolate, and waiting to be blessed by His love. If you are His, He will not lose you, but He will cry after you, "My son, give Me thy heart."

The great reason that the millennial age is not already here is because Christians are not ready for its coming. They are not full enough of the love of Christ; they are not as earnest for the salvation of the world as God desires to have them and they cling to the cross of Christ with one foot, while with the other hand they are reaching out for the good things of this life, desiring its riches and its greatness, its honors and emoluments, even at the sacrifice of spiritual life.

When we make God and His kingdom first and the things of this world secondary, then shall we feel the touch of God's love upon us, and rising to higher life and to more earnest effort for a selfish and sinful race we shall feel the power of redeeming love, and learn that our God is a God "mighty to save."

The Christian life is not a life that can be lived indifferently. Luke warmness is an evil which admits of no toleration. God loves His children too wholly to permit them the indulgence of this sin. More earnestness in the Christian life is the great need of the church at present. But that earnestness must first come to the individual, and to glorify in lives by doing the will of our Heavenly Father that we can feel that for us "to live is Christ—to die is gain!"

Train the children, then, to the exercise of kindness, courtesy and to affectionate ways among themselves. Don't let your big boy ever be ashamed of his heart, or to indulge in the belief that it is hardly a proper belonging to his sex, for the grandest thing in God's universe is a loving, loyal human heart. Given that and then add to it learning and intellectual strength and high principles, and you have the glory of a perfect manhood.

NOTES.

Find the following excellent recipes in that most popular of home monthlies, the Ladies Home Journal:

Macaroni with Sauce.—Put in a pot three ounces of lard, one onion cut very fine, and one can of tomatoes; season with salt and pepper; cook on a hot fire for half an hour, stirring constantly. When done, add a tumbler of water in the tomato sauce. In another pot, put three quarts of water; when boiling, take one pound of macaroni and let boil for fifteen minutes. Drain off the water, and put it in a large dish; scatter over the macaroni one tablespoonful of grated Swiss cheese, and pour over the tomato sauce.

Fried Macaroni.—Boil one pound of macaroni, salted to taste, for fifteen minutes; drain off the water, and put the macaroni in a deep dish; put in three eggs, a little salt, pepper and parsley; cut fine; mix thoroughly together. In a frying pan put two tablespoonfuls of lard; put the macaroni in and let fry on a light fire; when the bottom is brown, turn, and let brown on the other side; when brown on both sides, put in a plate and serve.

Macaroni with Butter.—As much macaroni as you wish should be boiled as above; then put on a hot plate. Take one tablespoonful of butter and heat in a cup on the stove; pour it over the macaroni, with a little grated Swiss cheese, salt and pepper, and serve hot.

Macaroni with Eggs.—Boil one pound of macaroni, as referred to above, and put in a pan; take one egg, beat well, one cupful of milk, and mix together. Pour the mixture over the macaroni, season it with salt and pepper; turn all together and put it in a hot oven; when brown put it on a hot plate and serve.

Macaroni à la Gratin.—Boil one pound of macaroni, as above; then put in a large, hot bowl; take two tablespoonfuls of butter and put it in a small pan on the stove; take two slices of toast, mash very fine; put the crumbs of toast in the pan with the butter; turn for a few minutes; put the macaroni in; stir all together for a few minutes more; season it with salt and pepper and serve hot.

Cranberry Potatoes.—Use a generous pinch of cold boiled potatoes, either in cubes or thin slices; one tablespoonful of butter, one heaping teaspoonful of sugar, three eggs of milk, one teaspoonful of salt and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of white pepper. Put the butter in the granite-ware dish and over the lighted fire. When it melts add the flour and stir until smooth and frothy; then gradually add the milk, stirring all the time. Season with one-third of the pepper and salt. Boil the milk, stirring up season the potatoes with the remainder of the salt and pepper and add them to the sauce. Cook for five minutes, stirring once or twice with a fork. Have the lamp wicks low.

A Rich Coconut Cream.—Ten cups grated coconut, ten cups of milk, ten cups white sugar and ten eggs. Boil the milk, add the sugar with a pinch of cinnamon for a few minutes, pour off the grated coconut and let cool. Strain it through a cloth, pressing well with the hand, so that the flavor of the coconut is extracted; beat the eggs well, and add. Set over a slow fire, and stir continually until thick. Serve in glass dishes, over slices of plain sponge cake.

History is a grand teacher. Through men obtain, sometimes, wonderfully clear glimpses of human nature with its frailties and its follies. We often make startling discoveries in regard to ourselves in studying others—discoveries of tendencies, the existence of which we were scarce aware until we were led by observing others to honest and careful inspection of our inner lives. The profoundest depths of our nature are not often stirred, and there lie unsuspected tendencies within us, dormant inclinations, which need but the flint of circumstance to make them flash into activity. Men are often surprised at the intensity of evil passions, which occasion sometimes develops, and at the germs of blighting depravity, the existence of which is oftentimes disclosed only by powerfully exciting causes. In times of sudden danger men frequently have revelations of themselves such as appear to them as individually they exist. "Oh, wretched man that I am, who shall deliver me from the body of this death?" Even the most earnest Christians are unconscious sinners, and probably among their least suspected sins is the tendency to idolatry. This sounds startling, but it is nevertheless true.

Of course it is not the open, conscious idolatry of the heathen world in which they indulge, and from which, in the deepest sincerity, they pray that they may be converted and he brought to a saving knowledge of the truth. We have no temples built to unknown gods; no idols of wood and stone placed upon lofty pedestals, before which we prostrate ourselves in blind worship; but all the same we have no idols which we do worship!

Look into your heart, O Christian professor, and see if God is all in all there. See if you are not pursuing with unthinking and idolatrous devotion the love of wealth, of place or of power. See if there be not within you a more constant yearning for worldly aggrandizement than there is for spiritual advancement. Discover if you have not the love for an earthly friend that is more absorbing than your love for the heavenly Father and your soul's Redeemer.

If it be so, and you are indeed one of God's children, if the spark of Christian love burns ever so feebly within your breast, God's concern will be to do deal with you as to bring you back to Him. He may have to visit you with sorrow and disappointment. He may take the ambitious hopes to which you cling and cover them with failure. He may take the loved ones whom you idolatrously worship from you, leaving you alone and desolate, and waiting to be blessed by His love. If you are His, He will not lose you, but He will cry after you, "My son, give Me thy heart."

The great reason that the millennial age is not already here is because Christians are not ready for its coming. They are not full enough of the love of Christ; they are not as earnest for the salvation of the world as God desires to have them and they cling to the cross of Christ with one foot, while with the other hand they are reaching out for the good things of this life, desiring its riches and its greatness, its honors and emoluments, even at the sacrifice of spiritual life.

When we make God and His kingdom first and the things of this world secondary, then shall we feel the touch of God's love upon us, and rising to higher life and to more earnest effort for a selfish and sinful race we shall feel the power of redeeming love, and learn that our God is a God "mighty to save."

The Christian life is not a life that can be lived indifferently. Luke warmness is an evil which admits of no toleration. God loves His children too wholly to permit them the indulgence of this sin. More earnestness in the Christian life is the great need of the church at present. But that earnestness must first come to the individual, and to glorify in lives by doing the will of our Heavenly Father that we can feel that for us "to live is Christ—to die is gain!"

Train the children, then, to the exercise of kindness, courtesy and to affectionate ways among themselves. Don't let your big boy ever be ashamed of his heart, or to indulge in the belief that it is hardly a proper belonging to his sex, for the grandest thing in God's universe is a loving, loyal human heart. Given that and then add to it learning and intellectual strength and high principles, and you have the glory of a perfect manhood.

Find the following excellent recipes in that most popular of home monthlies, the Ladies Home Journal:

Macaroni with Sauce.—Put in a pot three ounces of lard, one onion cut very fine, and one can of tomatoes; season with salt and pepper; cook on a hot fire for half an hour, stirring constantly. When done, add a tumbler of water in the tomato sauce. In another pot, put three quarts of water; when boiling, take one pound of macaroni and let boil for fifteen minutes. Drain off the water, and put it in a large dish; scatter over the macaroni one tablespoonful of grated Swiss cheese, and pour over the tomato sauce.

Fried Macaroni.—Boil one pound of macaroni, salted to taste, for fifteen minutes; drain off the water, and put the macaroni in a deep dish; put in three eggs, a little salt, pepper and parsley; cut fine; mix thoroughly together. In a frying pan put two tablespoonfuls of lard; put the macaroni in and let fry on a light fire; when the bottom is brown, turn, and let brown on the other side; when brown on both sides, put in a plate and serve.

Macaroni with Butter.—As much macaroni as you wish should be boiled as above; then put on a hot plate. Take one tablespoonful of butter and heat in a cup on the stove; pour it over the macaroni, with a little grated Swiss cheese, salt and pepper, and serve hot.

Macaroni à la Gratin.—Boil one pound of macaroni, as above; then put in a large, hot bowl; take two tablespoonfuls of butter and put it in a small pan on the stove; take two slices of toast, mash very fine; put the crumbs of toast in the pan with the butter; turn for a few minutes; put the macaroni in; stir all together for a few minutes more; season it with salt and pepper and serve hot.

BOYS' STORIES.

YOSEMITE AND MIRROR LAKE.

I wonder how many of my boys and girls have visited the Yosemite, that wonderful valley that lies in the very heart of our high Sierras. It is thirteen years since I was there, but still I can shut my eyes and see it just as it is. How much I had read about it before I started on my journey to visit it; how many pictures I had seen of its waterfalls and its domes. I thought I knew all about it but I found it grander than my thoughts, and far more beautiful than my fancy had painted it. I don't think that there is anything that would delight you more in the whole State than its beautiful Mirror Lake, surrounded by the high mountain walls and the massive domes of the valley. There are little cliffs on it, in which one can sail over its peaceful waters, and looking down into them see mirrored the sky, the domes, the hills, and the forests.

There is one thing which is very strange about this lake. As you look into its clear depths a part of the trees which you see reflected there seem to be standing upright in the water, instead of being inverted as most reflections are. It is a beautiful and quiet spot, and one that the birds love. If you could go there in the early morning you would find a wonderful bird choir there. Just as the purple dawn begins to brighten you would hear such a soft twittering among the trees, and the beautiful meadow lark would go singing to the sky, while the robin and the mocking bird would break into the most delightful song, and you would think that all the birds of the region had met to give you their most melodious music.

It used to seem to me that every bush and tree was alive with these happy little songsters, and their concerts were the grandest I ever heard.

But to see the sun come up over the heights above Mirror Lake—that was wonderful. First of all we would catch sight of a faint, golden beam which would drop like a pale arrow into the lake. Then it would grow brighter and brighter, till all the mountain heights seemed turned to gold, as if a vast golden river ran along their crests, and all the blue surface of the lake would kindle and light up as if a thousand fires were burning below. Every sunbeam turned to gold in its waters; every tree-top and bush was like a burning flame, and all the glory of the sunrise seemed to melt into the lake, and the light of the sun and the domes reflected its light till all the world about the lake was aglow. In the water you could see the great granite domes mirrored, and all the hills and trees, and not a sound could be heard but the song of the birds, or the murmur of the distant waterfalls.

And then, perhaps, far overhead, with broad wings outspread, could be seen circling in the blue air, a great, lonely eagle whose home was somewhere amid those lofty crags, so high that the foot of man could never reach them. I loved to ride up to the lake in the early morning, and my good horse seemed to enjoy the run as well as myself, for he was always in the best of spirits and he galloped at full speed along the way as if anxious not to have me miss a golden sunrise.

But I will not tell you more today about this lovely lake, for I have a poem which a good friend of the children, Miss Bertha S. Wilkes, has written, and which was suggested by the World's Fair, which is to be held in Chicago. It is

UNCLE SAM'S INVITATION.
Uncle Sam:
Well, brothers and sisters from over these,
I make my low bow right here.
We're going to have it in '96
Come all from far and near.

Dear Mother England, won't you come?
And sister France, I say,
You've been a grand kind to me,
You will not stay away.

At Chicago with one of my younger girls,
We're going to have our treaty,
She'll soon be spread all over the State,
For she has immensely big feet.

So come right along, you nations all,
And stay all night, when you come,
We'll give you all a grand old time,
And make you feel at home.

CHORUS:
Why, here they come, good Uncle Sam,
Thy're such a funny crowd,
We'll help you to take care of them,
If we may be allowed.

England:
Well, Sonnie, I have come to see,
What my big boy has done,
I must confess you've been at work,
Since last you drove me home.

France:
I once before brought guns and cash,
To help your baby states,
You show me how to do it now,
To show my fashion plates.

Germany:
And I come from the Fatherland,
To wish you all good-day,
My children like your pleasant farms,
And run from me away.

Russia:
The Giant of the North, I'm called,
King of the frozen seas,
Across the narrow Bering Strait
To greet your merry band.

Spain:
And here I come, for on this land
My flag was first unfurled,
Queen Isabel gave ships and men,
Columbus found this world.

Japan:
I bring my parasols and fans,
My kites and crackers bright;
So that the people of the world
May have a pleasant sight.

Brazil:
Those of us who are not at work
A-killing off each other,
We gladly help to celebrate,
As you have asked us, brother.

Mexico:
'Tis best that neighbors should be friends,
And help each other out;
So if you are but waiting now,
We'll change our goods about.

Uncle Sam:
Well, friends, I'm glad to see you here,
You've struck it rich, I say,
You may camp here in the lake,
And we'll give you beef and pie and cake;
(If you've got the cash to pay.)

My farm's the best in all the world,
And no mistake,
It spreads from the Atlantic Coast
To San Francisco Bay.

You've got the freedom of the place,
The best we can give;
And now to make your hearts rejoice,
Let Yankee Doodle ring.

YANKEE DOODLE.
The Yankee boy is trim and tall,
And never over fat,
He dances and frolics, boy and ball,
He's nimble as a rat, sir.

CHORUS:
Yankee Doodle guard your coast,
Yankee Doodle dandy,
Feeling no threat nor boast,
Yankee Doodle dandy.

He's always out on training day,
Commencement or election,
At truck and trade he knows the way
Of thriving to perfection.—Chorus.
His door is always open found
His cider's of the best, sir;
His board with pumpkins pies is crowned,
And welcome every guest, sir.—Chorus.

Though rough and little in his farm,
That little is his own, sir;
His hand is strong, his heart is warm,
It's truth and honor's throne, sir.

He'll wash the fair in '91,
And if you come out west, sir,
You'll find that Uncle Sam has learned,
Just how to treat a guest, sir.

This version of Yankee Doodle is the old one which was popular in 1830. Of course the last stanza is of recent date, but I hope my boys and girls will enjoy it all, as well as Uncle Sam's invitation to the whole world to come out and see him in 1893.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25, 1891.
Dear Sir:—Some eight months ago we lost our dog. He was very dear to me and I have been watching very anxiously for his return. But I fear now that he has been poisoned by some one. Yesterday a friend promised me a puppy. He is only three weeks old, and with the permission of my papa he said I might raise him. I felt so overjoyed that I composed these few lines to him.

BUSTER THE DOG.
A darling doggie's come here,
And to us he'll be very dear,
For he's the namesake of a dog,
Who disappeared out of our log.

He jumped and raced and capered about,
He wagged his tail, and in and out,
And I pity the dog who had the woe,
Of being one of Buster's foes.

He was very cute and black as jet,
To every one he was a pet,
He would not bite,
But he would fight.

But he is gone now, and in his place
Will come a dog of his own race,
And we will love him for Buster's sake,
And in his joys will we partake.

I can sympathize with my young friend, for we have lost two splendid dogs, our Buster First and Second. They were the choice of the boys and girls between the St. Bernard and Newfoundland. Buster First was a big shaggy affectionate fellow, with a white curly coat, and he was poisoned by someone. Buster number two would have been like him had he lived, but he was only a beautiful snow-white puppy, with a black spot on either cheek, when he too was poisoned by some cruel wretch, and we found him dead one morning under the house, where he had crawled to breathe his last. Buster, the little Buster, we buried him under a rose bush in the back yard, beneath the wide spreading boughs of the pepper tree, where he used to love to lie in the hot noon and sleep, his little white paw his only pillow.

E. A. O.

A DEPARTED WIFE.
Canst thou, Myra, come and tell me
Whether hast thy spirit flown:
Was there prepared a mansion for thee,
In some sphere to which thou'rt gone?

Dost thou live, and still art conscious
In some Eden thou hast found:
Or dost thy spirit ever slumber
In some sphere to which thou'rt bound?

Dost thou aught of earth remember,
Aught of him who loved thee still:
Canst thou watch my weary footsteps,
As I journey down my life's hill?

Do the thoughts that here inspired thee,
To a pure and noble life, not cease
Still survive the dissolution
That took from me a loving wife?

Earnestly I've sought the answer
To the question asked of me:
If "man dies" will he continue
Conscious on some other shore?

Are the loved ones who have left us,
Gone from us for evermore?
Or do they live again to greet us,
Where their parting nevermore?

Can they see from mystic regions,
Where our eyes cannot explore:
What the future has in store?
That the lives which we lead here?

Oh! could I but probe, and know
That death is nothing but the door,
Through which we all must pass, and go
To meet the loved ones gone before?

Could such knowledge be revealed me,
From out the mystic regions' lore,
And the proof come to assure me,
That the lives which we lead here?

How my heart would throb with gladness
At the thought of joy in store,
Of meeting thee again, where sadness
Never would come at parting more.

The proof I found that seemed so strong,
Was that a clock was ticking here,
That ever shut us from the throng
Who've passed from earth and us before.

That for a time my doubts depart,
And bright the future looked once more:
The brief that had so long my heart
Was gone—I hoped—for evermore.

But my hope was very fleeting,
For those doubts again returned,
When I thought of the loved ones
That again for a moment I mourned.

When I view the fruitless effort,
I have made to conquer doubt,
And see that though at once was kindled
Subsequently again I doubt.

When I found my faith was leaving,
That I thought was anchored fast,
And the joy that my believing
Gave me, I lost at last.

I have felt the greatest sorrow,
As I thought the future o'er,
And saw no hope of a tomorrow,
When life ended on this shore.

If these doubts I have are groundless;
If I have loved ones who are here,
Know that conscious life is boundless,
Stretching on for ever more;

How I wish my dear one, show me,
How this mystery is explored,
And the proof that shall meet me
When my journey here is o'er.

LOS ANGELES, September 3, 1891.

THE BREEDS WHICH ARE THE BEST MOTHERS.
(Farmers' Gazette.)
The best hens for bringing out chickens are Plymouth Rocks, Cochins and Game Hens. Some of the best are the purpose at all—such as Spanish and Leghorns. How such fowls perpetuate their species if their eggs are not hatched by other birds, we do not know, unless, indeed, that if left to themselves, as in the case of the game birds, where the eggs which they laid would not be gathered every day, but left in the nests, they might, when the nest got full, take to sitting on them. In a domestic state, such varieties seldom get broody, which compels people who wish to breed from them to keep a few fowls of another sort to hatch their eggs. There are also some who cannot be bothered by keeping sitters, and for this reason, or because they do not care for rearing chickens, never keep them. It is, however, an easy matter to put a hen of sitting by placing it under a box and starving it for a couple of days and nights. If this does not do the same treatment should be at once repeated, and then it seldom fails to cure the most inveterate sitter. Good broody hens are very valuable to poultry breeders during the spring, and any of the three varieties first named may generally be depended on to do their duty well, especially if the birds are past their first season. Yearlings sometimes do not sit steadily, and they have the bad reputation of pecking at the chickens when they are first chipping the shell, to help them out, as it were, which, however, often ends in their picking the little chicks to death. We never noticed older birds acting in this manner, and for this reason always prefer birds of 2 years old, or upward for the purpose of hatching.

ALL GO FISHING.
(Chicago Globe.)
In the city of New York only 15,672 persons are real-estate owners. Still fewer, of course, are house-owners. Suppose Mr. Astor should buy out the 15,672 others and turn Manhattan Island into a deer park. What would New Yorkers do!

Los Angeles has made some mistakes during her marvelous growth of the past few years, and of these I regret most of all the cutting down of so many magnificent shade trees along her streets. Many of these were needlessly sacrificed. What if here and there they might occasionally lift a block in the stone pavement by the thrust of their strong roots, could not these stones have easily been replaced, and that, too, without any great expense? Call to mind the broad limbed, swaying pepper trees, and the stately catalpa that a few years since adorned Broadway. What giants they were, and how beautiful the cool emerald of their boughs! Some of these might have been spared, but they are all gone, and instead is the white glare of the pavement and the unsheltered rain of the summer's heat.

Fancy Broadway over-arched, as it would be now, had these trees been spared, with their spreading boughs, the golden sunlight touching their shimmering leaves, and the cool rain of shadows falling upon the street. What an Arcadian dream it would be now, down the long, smoothly-paved highway, over-arched by green leaf-filled boughs! What a magnificent business street it would have been. But, alas!

We Americans are too utilitarian. In our busy rush of life that which ministers to our higher sentiments is too often put aside for the merely practical. A good many people complain that so much money is spent abroad and spend so much money in foreign lands, but I am glad that they do go, for they see there what we lack. The grand boulevards of the old world's cities teach them what we miss, and they come home enamored of the trees and the fine parks, and they realize how meager the attention which we give to such things and wake up to the reality of our poverty in this direction; and they say "we have made a great mistake in not paying greater attention to such things," and they go to work to create a popular sentiment in favor of these public improvements.

Los Angeles has at least one street that could scarcely be exceeded for beauty, and that is Adams street, worthy of the name it bears. You drive beneath an archway of pepper boughs for almost its entire length. The beautiful and majestic trees border the sidewalk. Beyond them are the garden-like spaces where the handsome homes are set, and where the palm trees and the banana grove, and the orange blossom grove, and where are green lawns, and beds of flowers, and sometimes the tinkle of the fountain. Here are your ideal semi-tropical homes, fragrant and shaded and stately. Life has a charm here, and nature greets you soothingly, smiling and tender. Everybody would love Los Angeles if her residence streets were all like this, and consider her rightly named—"Queen of the Angels."

Let us give more thought to tree planting. Go to Washington City and see what has been accomplished there. Its streets are marvels of beauty and comfort, and its numerous parks bring the bright, blossoming country, and its greenward right into the bosom of the great city. Washington is one of the healthiest cities in the country, and one cause of this may be traced to its numerous parks and its hundreds of thousands of shade trees. It is the worthy capital of a great continent. But, we might out-ripar it in a few years, if we would wrap, in the magnificence of our buildings, but in the beauty and variety of our shade trees. Let us turn our energies in this direction, and adorn our streets with more shade trees, and as they grow in beauty and overshadow our highways we shall feel like exclaiming with Henry Ward Beecher as he looked out upon some of these stately giants of nature's kingdom, "Oh, what a thought was that when God thought of a tree!"

I was out in the country a few days since, and I passed a small house set in the midst of a lot that was bare and brown, not a green thing in it anywhere, not a spear of grass, not a bush or tree, not a flower or a vine. The house was in keeping with the enclosure where it stood, for it was dingy and brown, the coat of paint washed off, and it wore an air of neglect that was sadly out of keeping with the bright sunshine and the blue skies overhead.

I can tell just what kind of a woman lives there, I thought. It is one lacking in refinement, a poor, plodding thing whose soul has never been awakened to the beauty of the world about her and who has not a thought beyond the things of today.

And just then, as if to assure me of the correctness of my thought, she came into that brown, desolate yard—a woman in a loose, ill-fitting calico dress, with frowzy hair, combed straight back from her head, wrinkled face, with stray unkempt locks falling behind her ears, and her striped cotton apron, looking as if it might have been worn for weeks, and yet never have made the acquaintance of the washtub.

Humanity is not pleasing when you see it in such a guise. There is a good deal of misery, a poor, plodding thing, whose soul has never been awakened to the beauty of the world about her and who has not a thought beyond the things of today.

And just then, as if to assure me of the correctness of my thought, she came into that brown, desolate yard—a woman in a loose, ill-fitting calico dress, with frowzy hair, combed straight back from her head, wrinkled face, with stray unkempt locks falling behind her ears, and her striped cotton apron, looking as if it might have been worn for weeks, and yet never have made the acquaintance of the washtub.

Humanity is not pleasing when you see it in such a guise. There is a good deal of misery, a poor, plodding thing, whose soul has never been awakened to the beauty of the world about her and who has not a thought beyond the things of today.

And just then, as if to assure me of the correctness of my thought, she came into that brown, desolate yard—a woman in a loose, ill-fitting calico dress, with frowzy hair, combed straight back from her head, wrinkled face, with stray unkempt locks falling behind her ears, and her striped cotton apron, looking as if it might have been worn for weeks, and yet never have made the acquaintance of the washtub.

Humanity is not pleasing when you see it in such a guise. There is a good deal of misery, a poor, plodding thing, whose soul has never been awakened to the beauty of the world about her and who has not a thought beyond the things of today.

And just then, as if to assure me of the correctness of my thought, she came into that brown, desolate yard—a woman in a loose, ill-fitting calico dress, with frowzy hair, combed straight back from her head, wrinkled face, with stray unkempt locks falling behind her ears, and her striped cotton apron, looking as if it might have been worn for weeks, and yet never have made the acquaintance of the washtub.

Humanity is not pleasing when you see it in such a guise. There is a good deal of misery, a poor, plodding thing, whose soul has never been awakened to the beauty of the world about her and who has not a thought beyond the things of today.

And just then, as if to assure me of the correctness of my thought, she came into that brown, desolate yard—a woman in a loose, ill-fitting calico dress, with frowzy hair, combed straight back from her head, wrinkled face, with stray unkempt locks falling behind her ears, and her striped cotton apron, looking as if it might have been worn for weeks, and yet never have made the acquaintance of the washtub.

Humanity is not pleasing when you see it in such a guise. There is a good deal of misery, a poor, plodding thing, whose soul has never been awakened to the beauty of the world about her and who has not a thought beyond the things of today.

And just then, as if to assure me of the correctness of my thought, she came into that brown, desolate yard—a woman in a loose, ill-fitting calico dress, with frowzy hair, combed straight back from her head, wrinkled face, with stray unkempt locks falling behind her ears, and her striped cotton apron, looking as if it might have been worn for weeks, and yet never have made the acquaintance of the washtub.

PROMOTION OF THE CAP.

THE ENGLISH SERVING MAID CALLED IT A BADGE OF SLAVERY.

AMERICAN WOMEN'S WORK

A Field for Effort at the World's Fair.

Magnificent Results Accomplished by the Board of Lady Managers

During the Past Year, as Shown at the Late Session.

Woman to Have a Fair Chance in All Realms of Human Achievement—Plans for Future Work.

Chicago, Sept. 26.—[Special Correspondence of This Times.] A marked difference was perceptible between the first and second meetings of the board of lady managers of the World's Fair Columbian Commission. At the first there was much confusion and uncertainty, growing out of the inexperience of the members and the extreme vagueness as to the rights, duties and privileges of the board. All this, however, was altered when it convened again ten months later, on the 2d of September. The members of the board now knew what they might do, and what they wanted to do, and how to set about it.

Much had been accomplished during the time which had elapsed between the first and second sessions. Interest in the woman's work, and comprehension of the purposes of the board, had spread throughout the world. The president of the board of lady managers had aroused such enthusiasm by her personal efforts in Europe, that the British World's Fair commissioners now en route to Chicago, came pledged to give women a place in England's representation. This is but one of several instances, which have already been announced with authority, showing the effect of the board's action. The board of lady managers had, in a most remarkable manner, been able to secure the cooperation of the board of lady managers of the World's Fair Columbian Commission. The board of lady managers had, in a most remarkable manner, been able to secure the cooperation of the board of lady managers of the World's Fair Columbian Commission. The board of lady managers had, in a most remarkable manner, been able to secure the cooperation of the board of lady managers of the World's Fair Columbian Commission.

Just what the building shall contain has been the subject of much interest and some uncertainty, and was sufficiently defined during this session to settle several important points. There will be no separate exhibit, that point having been one of the few definitely and finally disposed of at the first session. But there will be a special exhibit, and until this session of the board, there was no definite plan. The board of lady managers had, in a most remarkable manner, been able to secure the cooperation of the board of lady managers of the World's Fair Columbian Commission. The board of lady managers had, in a most remarkable manner, been able to secure the cooperation of the board of lady managers of the World's Fair Columbian Commission.

Each lady manager was instructed to impress upon all women exhibitors the absolute necessity for the greatest possible uniformity in every variety of exhibits. Whenever it can be done, duplicates of especially fine work by women, shown in the main buildings will be secured for the Woman's Building. Duplicate in this sense does not necessarily mean an exact copy of a particular thing, since that would in many cases be obviously impracticable; but it implies rather a specimen of equal beauty and value in the same sense, the word duplicate being employed as a cause of the lack of a better term. As has been said, whether this is a competitive exhibit or not is yet undecided, but the decision lies wholly with the board, as the commission has given it absolute control of the Woman's Building. The board evidently strongly inclines to some recognition of distinguished excellence, and will doubtless decide. In the smaller rooms of the floor will be model homes, and displays of a philanthropic character. The Bellevue Hospital of New York will probably—as the finest institution of the kind in the country—have charge of the trained nurse department. Model kindergartens will be a conspicuous feature, and it was proposed that the Chicago or Illinois schools have the management of this, since it is imperative that trained pupils should be in attendance, and it would be difficult to bring them from a distance. Another room will show the literary work of women, beginning with the tinkling madrigal of the dainty dames of the olden times, following the thin thread of romance on down to the valuable treatises upon the exact sciences, produced by the brainy women of today.

There will be in another room a wonderful collection of quaint fabrics and rare old laces, furnishing the artists of the world an opportunity to study the marvelous graceful scrolls of the fifteenth century designs in lace which have never been equalled. The arts,

THE GOOSEBONE MAN.

The Old, Reliable Bunion on Its Tramp.

The Oldest Inhabitant, and the Man Who Feels It in His Bones.

A Little Story for the Benefit of Lieut. Finley, U. S. A. and U. S. S.

The Prophet Wiggins Has Got Himself Disliked—The Brilliant Scheme of Pulling the Hole in After You.

While Uncle John and his official rain-makers are abroad in the land and the Salton Sea is attending to business it was unkind and worse for the crank Melbourne to come out and make the whole business ridiculous with his absurd gasp and weather-cooking plant. The business of spending a Government appropriation in comfort is serious and should be sacred until the money is spent. It is time then to find fault, and this consideration is rarely departed from in my experience, for the double reason that patience is the virtue of allowing somebody to fill his pocket, and bad work, or useless work, makes the excuse for further appropriation. It is certain enough that nothing is so sure to ruin a man as to have a fat appropriation of money to do a thing that is not worth doing, and that a man who is not worth doing is not worth doing.

We will hope therefore that no one will make unkind remarks about the way in which the rain-makers are abroad in the land, and that they will find themselves compelled to hire out to rattle peas in a box, or turn the thunder barrel at the theater for the climatic drama at 50 cents a night, and we need not be alarmed by the spread of the usefulness of the tribe of weather prophets, Lieut. Finley, the goosebone man, the oldest inhabitant, the man who is sure the climate is changing, sir; the person who feels it in his bones, the Indian who observes the weather by the position of the clouds, or the old reliable bunion. These or their successors will always have with us to increase the gayety of nations by their agreeable nonsense. Only the other day the goosebone man, who was in the city of Stockton, and he explained the prophetic purpose of that time-honored exhibit in the case of the weather thus: "I had my pick of the flock, and I took a nice young one just beginning to lay. Now, did you know that I had a stern and cut-water of a boat that had That's adaptation number one. Now, look close; see how fine and strong it is and unusually long. There's the whole story. That's the framework for a weather prophet, and that's about by God himself, and its size and strength is adaptation number two. That adaptation tells us—that it has got to begin its work early in the season and the size and strength of the bird has got to keep it right along through the season, while the unusual length of the bone tells of a long wet time."

You perceive that the goosebone man has quite as good reasons for the faith that is in him as the impious science of meteorology, which consists mainly in putting in unintelligible language the commonplaces of the weather and pretending to know what is going to happen. You can't hire prophets on a salary nor permit them to eat ham and eggs and hot coffee and pie, for these gross victuals destroy the weather's nature and are not fit food for an astral body. I call their trade impious because their whole theory is a flat contradiction of the Scripture: "The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou canst not tell whence it cometh and whither it goeth."

It is a little odd, speaking seriously, that this bogus science of meteorology should be suffered to put on the air of accurate knowledge without raising unapproachable laughter. Their utmost achievement is to report that a storm is coming in a certain direction, and may be expected at a given place by a certain time. Even this they are more often wrong than right, because there are so many causes operating and they are unable to measure a tithe of them. It would be far more reasonable to have the science of rain dispatching, because the dispatcher can fairly well foretell the hour of the arrival at a certain place. All that would be necessary to raise the work to the scientific plane of meteorology would be to clothe its precepts in some uncouth jargon, and to make it a mystery. Nevertheless the business of weather prophecy has always, and will always, have a fascination for the human race, no matter how much the science of the weather itself. Does not old Sharon tell us in his "History of the Anglo-Saxons" that "their prognostics from the sun and the moon, from thunder and from dreams, were so numerous that they could not state a most lamentable degree of mind."

While Lieut. Finley is piping off the weather and recording the whizz of the gale, he might do well to ponder the story of his brethren in the Flowery Kingdom, which I quote: "The household of the Emperor of China included thirty umbrella bearers and seventy-five astrologers. The astrologers, who correspond to the Signal Service Bureau of this country, predict every day the weather for the next day. If they predict rain, the umbrella bearers take a day off. If they announce fair weather, on the other hand the umbrella bearers, mandarins of the overland trade, must be at the palace at 6:30 a. m. The Emperor of China may be a heathen Chinese, but he knows enough to copper his astrologers and meteorologists. As an instance of the sagacity of the Chinese imperial family in this regard, we mention the signal recording of judicial astrology made by Hung Beef Tung, a grandchild of the present Emperor. Chow Chow, president of the Imperial College of Astrologers, came to Prince Shien's palace one morning and said: 'Scion of seventy thousand generations of Hungs, your poor servant has dreamed a dream. Me seemed that thou and I were transformed into great black dragons. Our scales were of equal length and with equal flight we soared through the upper air.'"

"Well," asked the Prince, gracefully polishing his middle finger nail with the tail of a dagger of the first dynasty, "you are young fellow?"

"This, my palisade and most gracious lord, that thy life and mine shall be long."

The Vatican contains 208 staircases and 1100 different rooms.

THE GOOSEBONE MAN.

The Old, Reliable Bunion on Its Tramp.

The Oldest Inhabitant, and the Man Who Feels It in His Bones.

A Little Story for the Benefit of Lieut. Finley, U. S. A. and U. S. S.

The Prophet Wiggins Has Got Himself Disliked—The Brilliant Scheme of Pulling the Hole in After You.

While Uncle John and his official rain-makers are abroad in the land and the Salton Sea is attending to business it was unkind and worse for the crank Melbourne to come out and make the whole business ridiculous with his absurd gasp and weather-cooking plant. The business of spending a Government appropriation in comfort is serious and should be sacred until the money is spent. It is time then to find fault, and this consideration is rarely departed from in my experience, for the double reason that patience is the virtue of allowing somebody to fill his pocket, and bad work, or useless work, makes the excuse for further appropriation. It is certain enough that nothing is so sure to ruin a man as to have a fat appropriation of money to do a thing that is not worth doing, and that a man who is not worth doing is not worth doing.

We will hope therefore that no one will make unkind remarks about the way in which the rain-makers are abroad in the land, and that they will find themselves compelled to hire out to rattle peas in a box, or turn the thunder barrel at the theater for the climatic drama at 50 cents a night, and we need not be alarmed by the spread of the usefulness of the tribe of weather prophets, Lieut. Finley, the goosebone man, the oldest inhabitant, the man who is sure the climate is changing, sir; the person who feels it in his bones, the Indian who observes the weather by the position of the clouds, or the old reliable bunion. These or their successors will always have with us to increase the gayety of nations by their agreeable nonsense. Only the other day the goosebone man, who was in the city of Stockton, and he explained the prophetic purpose of that time-honored exhibit in the case of the weather thus: "I had my pick of the flock, and I took a nice young one just beginning to lay. Now, did you know that I had a stern and cut-water of a boat that had That's adaptation number one. Now, look close; see how fine and strong it is and unusually long. There's the whole story. That's the framework for a weather prophet, and that's about by God himself, and its size and strength is adaptation number two. That adaptation tells us—that it has got to begin its work early in the season and the size and strength of the bird has got to keep it right along through the season, while the unusual length of the bone tells of a long wet time."

You perceive that the goosebone man has quite as good reasons for the faith that is in him as the impious science of meteorology, which consists mainly in putting in unintelligible language the commonplaces of the weather and pretending to know what is going to happen. You can't hire prophets on a salary nor permit them to eat ham and eggs and hot coffee and pie, for these gross victuals destroy the weather's nature and are not fit food for an astral body. I call their trade impious because their whole theory is a flat contradiction of the Scripture: "The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou canst not tell whence it cometh and whither it goeth."

It is a little odd, speaking seriously, that this bogus science of meteorology should be suffered to put on the air of accurate knowledge without raising unapproachable laughter. Their utmost achievement is to report that a storm is coming in a certain direction, and may be expected at a given place by a certain time. Even this they are more often wrong than right, because there are so many causes operating and they are unable to measure a tithe of them. It would be far more reasonable to have the science of rain dispatching, because the dispatcher can fairly well foretell the hour of the arrival at a certain place. All that would be necessary to raise the work to the scientific plane of meteorology would be to clothe its precepts in some uncouth jargon, and to make it a mystery. Nevertheless the business of weather prophecy has always, and will always, have a fascination for the human race, no matter how much the science of the weather itself. Does not old Sharon tell us in his "History of the Anglo-Saxons" that "their prognostics from the sun and the moon, from thunder and from dreams, were so numerous that they could not state a most lamentable degree of mind."

While Lieut. Finley is piping off the weather and recording the whizz of the gale, he might do well to ponder the story of his brethren in the Flowery Kingdom, which I quote: "The household of the Emperor of China included thirty umbrella bearers and seventy-five astrologers. The astrologers, who correspond to the Signal Service Bureau of this country, predict every day the weather for the next day. If they predict rain, the umbrella bearers take a day off. If they announce fair weather, on the other hand the umbrella bearers, mandarins of the overland trade, must be at the palace at 6:30 a. m. The Emperor of China may be a heathen Chinese, but he knows enough to copper his astrologers and meteorologists. As an instance of the sagacity of the Chinese imperial family in this regard, we mention the signal recording of judicial astrology made by Hung Beef Tung, a grandchild of the present Emperor. Chow Chow, president of the Imperial College of Astrologers, came to Prince Shien's palace one morning and said: 'Scion of seventy thousand generations of Hungs, your poor servant has dreamed a dream. Me seemed that thou and I were transformed into great black dragons. Our scales were of equal length and with equal flight we soared through the upper air.'"

"Well," asked the Prince, gracefully polishing his middle finger nail with the tail of a dagger of the first dynasty, "you are young fellow?"

"This, my palisade and most gracious lord, that thy life and mine shall be long."

The Vatican contains 208 staircases and 1100 different rooms.

THE GOOSEBONE MAN.

The Old, Reliable Bunion on Its Tramp.

The Oldest Inhabitant, and the Man Who Feels It in His Bones.

A Little Story for the Benefit of Lieut. Finley, U. S. A. and U. S. S.

The Prophet Wiggins Has Got Himself Disliked—The Brilliant Scheme of Pulling the Hole in After You.

While Uncle John and his official rain-makers are abroad in the land and the Salton Sea is attending to business it was unkind and worse for the crank Melbourne to come out and make the whole business ridiculous with his absurd gasp and weather-cooking plant. The business of spending a Government appropriation in comfort is serious and should be sacred until the money is spent. It is time then to find fault, and this consideration is rarely departed from in my experience, for the double reason that patience is the virtue of allowing somebody to fill his pocket, and bad work, or useless work, makes the excuse for further appropriation. It is certain enough that nothing is so sure to ruin a man as to have a fat appropriation of money to do a thing that is not worth doing, and that a man who is not worth doing is not worth doing.

We will hope therefore that no one will make unkind remarks about the way in which the rain-makers are abroad in the land, and that they will find themselves compelled to hire out to rattle peas in a box, or turn the thunder barrel at the theater for the climatic drama at 50 cents a night, and we need not be alarmed by the spread of the usefulness of the tribe of weather prophets, Lieut. Finley, the goosebone man, the oldest inhabitant, the man who is sure the climate is changing, sir; the person who feels it in his bones, the Indian who observes the weather by the position of the clouds, or the old reliable bunion. These or their successors will always have with us to increase the gayety of nations by their agreeable nonsense. Only the other day the goosebone man, who was in the city of Stockton, and he explained the prophetic purpose of that time-honored exhibit in the case of the weather thus: "I had my pick of the flock, and I took a nice young one just beginning to lay. Now, did you know that I had a stern and cut-water of a boat that had That's adaptation number one. Now, look close; see how fine and strong it is and unusually long. There's the whole story. That's the framework for a weather prophet, and that's about by God himself, and its size and strength is adaptation number two. That adaptation tells us—that it has got to begin its work early in the season and the size and strength of the bird has got to keep it right along through the season, while the unusual length of the bone tells of a long wet time."

You perceive that the goosebone man has quite as good reasons for the faith that is in him as the impious science of meteorology, which consists mainly in putting in unintelligible language the commonplaces of the weather and pretending to know what is going to happen. You can't hire prophets on a salary nor permit them to eat ham and eggs and hot coffee and pie, for these gross victuals destroy the weather's nature and are not fit food for an astral body. I call their trade impious because their whole theory is a flat contradiction of the Scripture: "The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou canst not tell whence it cometh and whither it goeth."

It is a little odd, speaking seriously, that this bogus science of meteorology should be suffered to put on the air of accurate knowledge without raising unapproachable laughter. Their utmost achievement is to report that a storm is coming in a certain direction, and may be expected at a given place by a certain time. Even this they are more often wrong than right, because there are so many causes operating and they are unable to measure a tithe of them. It would be far more reasonable to have the science of rain dispatching, because the dispatcher can fairly well foretell the hour of the arrival at a certain place. All that would be necessary to raise the work to the scientific plane of meteorology would be to clothe its precepts in some uncouth jargon, and to make it a mystery. Nevertheless the business of weather prophecy has always, and will always, have a fascination for the human race, no matter how much the science of the weather itself. Does not old Sharon tell us in his "History of the Anglo-Saxons" that "their prognostics from the sun and the moon, from thunder and from dreams, were so numerous that they could not state a most lamentable degree of mind."

While Lieut. Finley is piping off the weather and recording the whizz of the gale, he might do well to ponder the story of his brethren in the Flowery Kingdom, which I quote: "The household of the Emperor of China included thirty umbrella bearers and seventy-five astrologers. The astrologers, who correspond to the Signal Service Bureau of this country, predict every day the weather for the next day. If they predict rain, the umbrella bearers take a day off. If they announce fair weather, on the other hand the umbrella bearers, mandarins of the overland trade, must be at the palace at 6:30 a. m. The Emperor of China may be a heathen Chinese, but he knows enough to copper his astrologers and meteorologists. As an instance of the sagacity of the Chinese imperial family in this regard, we mention the signal recording of judicial astrology made by Hung Beef Tung, a grandchild of the present Emperor. Chow Chow, president of the Imperial College of Astrologers, came to Prince Shien's palace one morning and said: 'Scion of seventy thousand generations of Hungs, your poor servant has dreamed a dream. Me seemed that thou and I were transformed into great black dragons. Our scales were of equal length and with equal flight we soared through the upper air.'"

"Well," asked the Prince, gracefully polishing his middle finger nail with the tail of a dagger of the first dynasty, "you are young fellow?"

"This, my palisade and most gracious lord, that thy life and mine shall be long."

The Vatican contains 208 staircases and 1100 different rooms.

THE GOOSEBONE MAN.

The Old, Reliable Bunion on Its Tramp.

The Oldest Inhabitant, and the Man Who Feels It in His Bones.

A Little Story for the Benefit of Lieut. Finley, U. S. A. and U. S. S.

The Prophet Wiggins Has Got Himself Disliked—The Brilliant Scheme of Pulling the Hole in After You.

While Uncle John and his official rain-makers are abroad in the land and the Salton Sea is attending to business it was unkind and worse for the crank Melbourne to come out and make the whole business ridiculous with his absurd gasp and weather-cooking plant. The business of spending a Government appropriation in comfort is serious and should be sacred until the money is spent. It is time then to find fault, and this consideration is rarely departed from in my experience, for the double reason that patience is the virtue of allowing somebody to fill his pocket, and bad work, or useless work, makes the excuse for further appropriation. It is certain enough that nothing is so sure to ruin a man as to have a fat appropriation of money to do a thing that is not worth doing, and that a man who is not worth doing is not worth doing.

We will hope therefore that no one will make unkind remarks about the way in which the rain-makers are abroad in the land, and that they will find themselves compelled to hire out to rattle peas in a box, or turn the thunder barrel at the theater for the climatic drama at 50 cents a night, and we need not be alarmed by the spread of the usefulness of the tribe of weather prophets, Lieut. Finley, the goosebone man, the oldest inhabitant, the man who is sure the climate is changing, sir; the person who feels it in his bones, the Indian who observes the weather by the position of the clouds, or the old reliable bunion. These or their successors will always have with us to increase the gayety of nations by their agreeable nonsense. Only the other day the goosebone man, who was in the city of Stockton, and he explained the prophetic purpose of that time-honored exhibit in the case of the weather thus: "I had my pick of the flock, and I took a nice young one just beginning to lay. Now, did you know that I had a stern and cut-water of a boat that had That's adaptation number one. Now, look close; see how fine and strong it is and unusually long. There's the whole story. That's the framework for a weather prophet, and that's about by God himself, and its size and strength is adaptation number two. That adaptation tells us—that it has got to begin its work early in the season and the size and strength of the bird has got to keep it right along through the season, while the unusual length of the bone tells of a long wet time."

You perceive that the goosebone man has quite as good reasons for the faith that is in him as the impious science of meteorology, which consists mainly in putting in unintelligible language the commonplaces of the weather and pretending to know what is going to happen. You can't hire prophets on a salary nor permit them to eat ham and eggs and hot coffee and pie, for these gross victuals destroy the weather's nature and are not fit food for an astral body. I call their trade impious because their whole theory is a flat contradiction of the Scripture: "The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou canst not tell whence it cometh and whither it goeth."

It is a little odd, speaking seriously, that this bogus science of meteorology should be suffered to put on the air of accurate knowledge without raising unapproachable laughter. Their utmost achievement is to report that a storm is coming in a certain direction, and may be expected at a given place by a certain time. Even this they are more often wrong than right, because there are so many causes operating and they are unable to measure a tithe of them. It would be far more reasonable to have the science of rain dispatching, because the dispatcher can fairly well foretell the hour of the arrival at a certain place. All that would be necessary to raise the work to the scientific plane of meteorology would be to clothe its precepts in some uncouth jargon, and to make it a mystery. Nevertheless the business of weather prophecy has always, and will always, have a fascination for the human race, no matter how much the science of the weather itself. Does not old Sharon tell us in his "History of the Anglo-Saxons" that "their prognostics from the sun and the moon, from thunder and from dreams, were so numerous that they could not state a most lamentable degree of mind."

While Lieut. Finley is piping off the weather and recording the whizz of the gale, he might do well to ponder the story of his brethren in the Flowery Kingdom, which I quote: "The household of the Emperor of China included thirty umbrella bearers and seventy-five astrologers. The astrologers, who correspond to the Signal Service Bureau of this country, predict every day the weather for the next day. If they predict rain, the umbrella bearers take a day off. If they announce fair weather, on the other hand the umbrella bearers, mandarins of the overland trade, must be at the palace at 6:30 a. m. The Emperor of China may be a heathen Chinese, but he knows enough to copper his astrologers and meteorologists. As an instance of the sagacity of the Chinese imperial family in this regard, we mention the signal recording of judicial astrology made by Hung Beef Tung, a grandchild of the present Emperor. Chow Chow, president of the Imperial College of Astrologers, came to Prince Shien's palace one morning and said: 'Scion of seventy thousand generations of Hungs, your poor servant has dreamed a dream. Me seemed that thou and I were transformed into great black dragons. Our scales were of equal length and with equal flight we soared through the upper air.'"

"Well," asked the Prince, gracefully polishing his middle finger nail with the tail of a dagger of the first dynasty, "you are young fellow?"

"This, my palisade and most gracious lord, that thy life and mine shall be long."

The Vatican contains 208 staircases and 1100 different rooms.

THE GOOSEBONE MAN.

The Old, Reliable Bunion on Its Tramp.

The Oldest Inhabitant, and the Man Who Feels It in His Bones.

A Little Story for the Benefit of Lieut. Finley, U. S. A. and U. S. S.

The Prophet Wiggins Has Got Himself Disliked—The Brilliant Scheme of Pulling the Hole in After You.

While Uncle John and his official rain-makers are abroad in the land and the Salton Sea is attending to business it was unkind and worse for the crank Melbourne to come out and make the whole business ridiculous with his absurd gasp and weather-cooking plant. The business of spending a Government appropriation in comfort is serious and should be sacred until the money is spent. It is time then to find fault, and this consideration is rarely departed from in my experience, for the double reason that patience is the virtue of allowing somebody to fill his pocket, and bad work, or useless work, makes the excuse for further appropriation. It is certain enough that nothing is so sure to ruin a man as to have a fat appropriation of money to do a thing that is not worth doing, and that a man who is not worth doing is not worth doing.

We will hope therefore that no one will make unkind remarks about the way in which the rain-makers are abroad in the land, and that they will find themselves compelled to hire out to rattle peas in a box, or turn the thunder barrel at the theater for the climatic drama at 50 cents a night, and we need not be alarmed by the spread of the usefulness of the tribe of weather prophets, Lieut. Finley, the goosebone man, the oldest inhabitant, the man who is sure the climate is changing, sir; the person who feels it in his bones, the Indian who observes the weather by the position of the clouds, or the old reliable bunion. These or their successors will always have with us to increase the gayety of nations by their agreeable nonsense. Only the other day the goosebone man, who was in the city of Stockton, and he explained the prophetic purpose of that time-honored exhibit in the case of the weather thus: "I had my pick of the flock, and I took a nice young one just beginning to lay. Now, did you know that I had a stern and cut-water of a boat that had That's adaptation number one. Now, look close; see how fine and strong it is and unusually long. There's the whole story. That's the framework for a weather prophet, and that's about by God himself, and its size and strength is adaptation number two. That adaptation tells us—that it has got to begin its work early in the season and the size and strength of the bird has got to keep it right along through the season, while the unusual length of the bone tells of a long wet time."

You perceive that the goosebone man has quite as good reasons for the faith that is in him as the impious science of meteorology, which consists mainly in putting in unintelligible language the commonplaces of the weather and pretending to know what is going to happen. You can't hire prophets on a salary nor permit them to eat ham and eggs and hot coffee and pie, for these gross victuals destroy the weather's nature and are not fit food for an astral body. I call their trade impious because their whole theory is a flat contradiction of the Scripture: "The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou canst not tell whence it cometh and whither it goeth."

It is a little odd, speaking seriously, that this bogus science of meteorology should be suffered to put on the air of accurate knowledge without raising unapproachable laughter. Their utmost achievement is to report that a storm is coming in a certain direction, and may be expected at a given place by a certain time. Even this they are more often wrong than right, because there are so many causes operating and they are unable to measure a tithe of them. It would be far more reasonable to have the science of rain dispatching, because the dispatcher can fairly well foretell the hour of the arrival at a certain place. All that would be necessary to raise the work to the scientific plane of meteorology would be to clothe its precepts in some uncouth jargon, and to make it a mystery. Nevertheless the business of weather prophecy has always, and will always, have a fascination for the human race, no matter how much the science of the weather itself. Does not old Sharon tell us in his "History of the Anglo-Saxons" that "their prognostics from the sun and the moon, from thunder and from dreams, were so numerous that they could not state a most lamentable degree of mind."

While Lieut. Finley is piping off the weather and recording the whizz of the gale, he might do well to ponder the story of his brethren in the Flowery Kingdom, which I quote: "The household of the Emperor of China included thirty umbrella bearers and seventy-five astrologers. The astrologers, who correspond to the Signal Service Bureau of this country, predict every day the weather for the next day. If they predict rain, the umbrella bearers take a day off. If they announce fair weather, on the other hand the umbrella bearers, mandarins of the overland trade, must be at the palace at 6:30 a. m. The Emperor of China may be a heathen Chinese, but he knows enough to copper his astrologers and meteorologists. As an instance of the sagacity of the Chinese imperial family in this regard, we mention the signal recording of judicial astrology made by Hung Beef Tung, a grandchild of the present Emperor. Chow Chow, president of the Imperial College of Astrologers, came to Prince Shien's palace one morning and said: 'Scion of seventy thousand generations of Hungs, your poor servant has dreamed a dream. Me seemed that thou and I were transformed into great black dragons. Our scales were of equal length and with equal flight we soared through the upper air.'"

"Well," asked the Prince, gracefully polishing his middle finger nail with the tail of a dagger of the first dynasty, "you are young fellow?"

"This, my palisade and most gracious lord, that thy life and mine shall be long."

The Vatican contains 208 staircases and 1100 different rooms.

THE GOOSEBONE MAN.

The Old, Reliable Bunion on Its Tramp.

The Oldest Inhabitant, and the Man Who Feels It in His Bones.

A Little Story for the Benefit of Lieut. Finley, U. S. A. and U. S. S.

The Prophet Wiggins Has Got Himself Disliked—The Brilliant Scheme of Pulling the Hole in After You.

While Uncle John and his official rain-makers are abroad in the land and the Salton Sea is attending to business it was unkind and worse for the crank Melbourne to come out and make the whole business ridiculous with his absurd gasp and weather-cooking plant. The business of spending a Government appropriation in comfort is serious and should be sacred until the money is spent. It is time then to find fault, and this consideration is rarely departed from in my experience, for the double reason that patience is the virtue of allowing somebody to fill his pocket, and bad work, or useless work, makes the excuse for further appropriation. It is certain enough that nothing is so sure to ruin a man as to have a fat appropriation of money to do a thing that is not worth doing, and that a man who is not worth doing is not worth doing.

We will hope therefore that no one will make unkind remarks about the way in which the rain-makers are abroad in the land, and that they will find themselves compelled to hire out to rattle peas in a box, or turn the thunder barrel at the theater for the climatic drama at 50 cents a night, and we need not be alarmed by the spread of the usefulness of the tribe of weather prophets, Lieut. Finley, the goosebone man, the oldest inhabitant, the man who is sure the climate is changing, sir; the person who feels it in his bones, the Indian who observes the weather by the position of the clouds, or the old reliable bunion. These or their successors will always have with us to increase the gayety of nations by their agreeable nonsense. Only the other day the goosebone man, who was in the city of Stockton, and he explained the prophetic purpose of that time-honored exhibit in the case of the weather thus: "I had my pick of the flock, and I took a nice young one just beginning to lay. Now, did you know that I had a stern and cut-water of a boat that had That's adaptation number one. Now, look close; see how fine and strong it is and unusually long. There's the whole story. That's the framework for a weather prophet, and that's about by God himself, and its size and strength is adaptation number two. That adaptation tells us—that it has got to begin its work early in the season and the size and strength of the bird has got to keep it right along through the season, while the unusual length of the bone tells of a long wet time."

You perceive that the goosebone man has quite as good reasons for the faith that is in him as the impious science of meteorology, which consists mainly in putting in unintelligible language the commonplaces of the weather and pretending to know what is going to happen. You can't hire prophets on a salary nor permit them to eat ham and eggs and hot coffee and pie, for these gross victuals destroy the weather's nature and are not fit food for an astral body. I call their trade impious because their whole theory is a flat contradiction of the Scripture: "The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou canst not tell whence it cometh and whither it goeth."

It is a little odd, speaking seriously, that this bogus science of meteorology should be suffered to put on the air of accurate knowledge without raising unapproachable laughter. Their utmost achievement is to report that a storm is coming in a certain direction, and may be expected at a given place by a certain time. Even this they are more often wrong than right, because there are so many causes operating and they are unable to measure a tithe of them. It would be far more reasonable to have the science of rain dispatching, because the dispatcher can fairly well foretell the hour of the arrival at a certain place. All that would be necessary to raise the work to the scientific plane of meteorology would be to clothe its precepts in some uncouth jargon, and to make it a mystery. Nevertheless the business of weather prophecy has always, and will always, have a fascination for the human race, no matter how much the science of the weather itself. Does not old Sharon tell us in his "History of the Anglo-Saxons" that "their prognostics from the sun and the moon, from thunder and from dreams, were so numerous that they could not state a most lamentable degree of mind."

While Lieut. Finley is piping off the weather and recording the whizz of the gale, he might do well to ponder the story of his brethren in the Flowery Kingdom, which I quote: "The household of the Emperor of China included thirty umbrella bearers and seventy-five astrologers. The astrologers, who correspond to the Signal Service Bureau of this country, predict every day the weather for the next day. If they predict rain, the umbrella bearers take a day off. If they announce fair weather, on the other hand the umbrella bearers, mandarins of the overland trade, must be at the palace at 6:30 a. m. The Emperor of China may be a heathen Chinese, but he knows enough to copper his astrologers and meteorologists. As an instance of the sagacity of the Chinese imperial family in this regard, we mention the signal recording of judicial astrology made by Hung Beef Tung, a grandchild of the present Emperor. Chow Chow, president of the Imperial College of Astrologers, came to Prince Shien's palace one morning and said: 'Scion of seventy thousand generations of Hungs, your poor servant has dreamed a dream. Me seemed that thou and I were transformed into great black dragons. Our scales were of equal length and with equal flight we soared through the upper air.'"

"Well," asked the Prince, gracefully polishing his middle finger nail with the tail of a dagger of the first dynasty, "you are young fellow?"

"This, my palisade and most gracious lord, that thy life and mine shall be long."

The Vatican contains 208 staircases and 1100 different rooms.

The Vatican contains 208 staircases and 1100 different rooms.

The Vatican contains 208 staircases and 1100 different rooms.

The Vatican contains 208 staircases and 1100 different rooms.

The Vatican contains 208 staircases and 1100 different rooms.

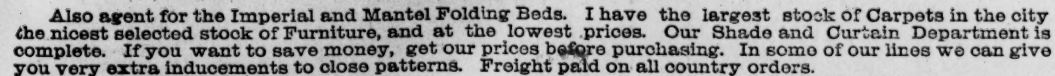

The Vatican contains 208 staircases and 1100 different rooms.

The Vatican contains 208 staircases and 1100 different rooms.

The Vatican contains 208 staircases and 1100 different rooms.

The Vatican contains 208 staircases and 1100 different rooms.

The only combination bed that a lady can operate with ease; that will not wear out carpets; that leaves the Cabinet and Mirror in front when the bed is down. An invitation extended to all to see this bed.

Y. I.	(U. S.)	$1,000 REWARD
-------	----------	----------------

—GIVEN TO—

DR. WOLL

analysis of 100 bottles of this wonderful blood medicine any mercury, potassium or any other poison. For sale only at the old reliable

BERLIN DRUG STORE

Capital, paid up.....	$500,000
Surplus and profits.....	675,000
Total.....	$1,175,000

DIRECTORS:
W. H. Perry, Emeline Childs, J. B. Lankershim, C. E. Thom, C. Ducommun, H. W. Hellman, L. C. Goodwin, A. Glassell, I. W. Hell-

renowned as leading physicians, Dr. Weh naturally followed in the footsteps of his fathers. In China he has practiced his profession for several years, being at one time a physician in the Imperial Hospital, and in America for a long time. His great and consumption. I consulted with the best physicians I could find but they did me no benefit, but on the contrary I got worse and worse, until I indulged in the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, causing fearful headaches and vertigo, making my life one of misery. I tried and paid the best physicians without relief. Finally, to please my friend, I visited Perry M. Green, Warren Gillespie, H. Sinsabaugh. Exchange for sale on all the principal cities of the United States and Europe.

I have tried many doctors and medicines without benefit until Dr. Wm. H. R. Brown gave me his medicine. I have derived no benefit from it until Dr. C. N. Flint, the Chinese physician, of Los Angeles City, prescribed for me.

Two months ago I began his treatment

I have never had such trouble with terrible cramps and pains in my abdomen, with dropsical swellings in my feet and limbs. I endeavored in every way to find relief but failed until four weeks ago I heard

C. N. BREED.....	President
W. F. BOGGS-SHELL.....	Vice-President
C. N. FLINT.....	Cashier

Dr. Wob is the oldest and best-known Chinese Physician in Southern California. His many cures have been remarkable, involving Female Troubles, Tumors and every form of

Security Savings Bank—Capital $200,000

ANDREW J. BOWNE.....	President Fourth National Bank, Grand Rapids, Mich	Capital.....	$100,000
H. W. HELLMAN.....	Vice-President Farmers and Merchants' Bank, Los Angeles
S. A. FLEMING.....	VICE-PRESIDENT	L. C. GOODWIN.....	President
T. L. DUQUE.....	Capitalist, Los Angeles	W. M. CASWELL.....	Secretary

To the fact that this bank has the largest paid-up capital and surplus combined of any savings bank in Southern California, and only loans money on approved real estate security; that among its stockholders are some of the oldest and most responsible citizens of the community; that, under the State law, the private estates of its stockholders are pro-

Main Street Savings Bank and Trust Co.,
 426 SOUTH MAIN ST. LOS ANGELES, CAL.
 R. Bard, President.
 J. M. C. MARBLE, Vice-President.
 O. H. CHURCHILL, Cashier.
 PERCY WILDMAN, Assistant.

Five-cent Deposit Stamps for sale at stores in different parts of the city and county. (Incorporated Oct. 28, 1892.) INCREASE OF RESOURCES:

STATE LOAN AND TRUST CO. OF LOS ANGELES. LOS ANGELES COUNTY BANK, LOS ANGELES, CAL. CAPITAL STOCK, $300,000. A. D. CHILDRESS, President. JOHN S. PARK, Cashier. DIRECTORS: Shallen

CITIZENS' BANK OF LOS ANGELES,
Cor. Third and Spring.

loans on real estate will be received from borrowers in person or by mail.

RAILROAD AFFAIRS.

Investigating the Causes of the Tehachapi Accident.

One of Jay Gould's Schemes That Did Not Pan Out.

Gen. Dodge of Denver to Have Been Appointed Receiver.

Eastern Ticket Agents on a Junket—An Expensive Fire for the Southern Pacific—General Notes and Personalities.

An investigation of the recent Tehachapi accident, in which Col. William Harney lost his life, was, last week, held at Southern Pacific headquarters, conducted by General Manager Towne and General Superintendent Fillmore. All the men that were on the two trains which collided—conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen—as well as all trackmen who had any knowledge of the disaster have been on hand for some days and most of them have been examined. No decision as to where the blame rests has yet been reached. The details of the testimony confirm previous statements as to particulars and causes of the deplorable accident, but who was responsible for it is yet to be decided.

UNION PACIFIC GOSPEL.

A letter from some New York financiers to a Boston correspondent contains this bit of interesting railroad gossip: "We heard today, as a rumor which we pass on as such, that the reports that receiver would be appointed for the Union Pacific, which came out at the time stock broke so badly had a foundation. We understand Gould had fixed it up to have General Dodge appointed receiver and sold the stock in anticipation. But Drexel, Morgan & Co., and Winslow, Lanier & Co., afraid of the effect this would have upon the market, stepped in, saying they thought the debt could be funded, and asking them to do so. Upon this Gould held his hand off. This will explain his apparent lukewarm behavior in regard to the funding scheme going through, and also the very bad earnings put out by the Union Pacific. If this is so we are likely to see some further bad earnings, and, in fact, the whole thing may break up."

SCRAP HEAP.

A new tourist rate sheet has been issued by the Santa Fe. The big coal fire at Fresno will cost the Southern Pacific Company nearly $200,000. Jay W. Adams of the Chicago and Alton last evening started on a business trip to Portland. D. W. Hitchcock, general Pacific Coast agent for the Union Pacific, returned to the North last evening. He found the interests of his company were well taken care of in Southern California.

The Mackay private car which left San Francisco Wednesday and is due to arrive in New York today, taking four days twelve hours and ten minutes for the run from the sea to ocean will beat by four hours the famous run made by the Herman Ostrichs car recently.

President Manuel of the Santa Fe, is consistent. All the statements he makes in Southern California, regarding the company's intentions, are but repetitions of what he said in an interview at San Francisco, which was reported by telegram to this paper. According to the president the Santa Fe is extremely conservative.

A party of eastern ticket agents who have lately attended the Ticket Agents' Convention of St. Paul arrived in San Francisco Thursday. They come from New England, and prominent among them are C. A. McAlpine, president of the New England Railroad Agents' Association, who is connected with the Old Colony Railroad, and W. S. Rodolman, agent for the Connecticut River Railroad, who comes from Northampton, Mass. The party visited the Yellowstone Park, and will take in most of California before returning.

The California lions in the hills adjacent to Chico are death on sheep. Last week the sheep camp of Al and Bill Bruce was raided, and in two nights between fifty and sixty head of sheep killed. The depredations were two California lions which had been seen in the vicinity. A hunt on their trail failed to reveal the varmint, so the steel trap was set, and the first night's set was rewarded by one catch. The second set was equally successful, and now Al and Bill are each entitled to scale money from Plumas county.—(Chico Enterprise.)

The Del Valle Bros. of Camulos have ordered 20,000 feet of lumber from the Ventura Lumber Company with which a bulkhead along the river will be built in order to save their property from washing away. This course is made necessary by the high water in the Santa Clara River every winter and the destructive current which has washed away considerable land in that vicinity.—(Free Press.)

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY. A positive cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker-mouth. Wholesale by Haas, Baruch & Co.; and all retail druggists.

Pullman Palace Drawing-room sleeping cars and Pullman tourist sleeping cars, Los Angeles to Chicago, daily without change, by the Santa Fe Route.

Tourist Sleeping cars, Los Angeles to Boston, through without change by the Santa Fe Route.

Removal. Sisters of Mercy have moved to their new home on E. 12th st., No. 118. Ladies who need good, efficient help please call.

Prompt Payment of Claim. The prompt manner in which the Independent Order of Foresters has paid the endowment benefit of $2000 and the sick and funeral benefits of $50 to the beneficiary of the late P. W. Stambury, a great credit to the order, and shows it to be a thoroughly reliable organization.

SHILOH'S CURE will immediately relieve Croup, Whooping Cough and Bronchitis. Wholesale by Haas, Baruch & Co.; and all retail druggists.

Columbus Discovering South America. Capt. Miguel Tejada, commander of the steamship Plata, will take to Chile a Columbus phaction, sold by Hawley, King & Co.

Millinery Opening. Imported novelties in the latest designs of fall and winter hats and bonnets, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 1st, 2d and 3d, MISS B. M. TOBINS, at J. T. Sheward's dry goods store.

Bone Meal. Ground bones by the sack, ton or carload at lowest price. GRANT BONE MILL, near Aliso and Lyon sts., Los Angeles. Highest price paid for dry bones.

ARE YOU MADE MISERABLE by Indigestion, Constipation, Bile, Headache, Dizziness, Yellow Skin? Shiloh's is a positive cure. Wholesale by Haas, Baruch & Co.; and all retail druggists.

TRY BARTLETT'S MINERAL WATER. It has no equal. H. Jevne, agent.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Real Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

"FATHER" WAUGH.

One of the Oldest Methodist Ministers on the Coast.

Among the notable visitors in attendance at the Methodist conference, now in session in this city, is "Father" Waugh, one of the oldest Methodist ministers in the State, who for many years past has been closely identified with children's work in the church. "Father" Waugh is now 83 years of age, but is still hale and hearty, and from present indications is good for many years yet. He crossed the plains in 1852 with an ox team, and located in Sonoma county, near Petaluma, where Gen. Vallejo gave him a home and 500 acres of land, on account of his services among the Indians. He has since resided in that place until a short time ago, when he sold out and removed to San Francisco. "Father" Waugh's 83d birthday was celebrated in Stockton, when a resolution was adopted asking the railroad companies to give him free transportation for the remainder of his life, which is being done.

"Father" Waugh will attend the children's meeting at Simpson's Tabernacle, where he may make an address.

SHIPPING NEWS.

SAN PEDRO, Sept. 26, 1891.

The following were the arrivals and departures for the past twenty-four hours: Arrivals—September 26, steamer Eureka Smith, from Newport, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; September 26, steamer Falcon, Simme, from Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Departures—September 26, steamer Eureka Smith, for San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; September 26, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.; September 26, steamer Pomona, Hall, from San Diego and Newport, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; September 26, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Arrive—September 27, steamer Pomona, Hall, from San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; September 27, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Sail—September 27, steamer Pomona, Hall, for Newport and San Diego, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; September 27, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Arrive—September 28, steamer Eureka Smith, for San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; September 28, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Sail—September 28, steamer Pomona, Hall, from San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; September 28, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Arrive—September 29, steamer Eureka Smith, for San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; September 29, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Sail—September 29, steamer Pomona, Hall, from San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; September 29, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Arrive—September 30, steamer Eureka Smith, for San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; September 30, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Sail—September 30, steamer Pomona, Hall, from San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; September 30, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Arrive—October 1, steamer Eureka Smith, for San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; October 1, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Sail—October 1, steamer Pomona, Hall, from San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; October 1, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Arrive—October 2, steamer Eureka Smith, for San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; October 2, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Sail—October 2, steamer Pomona, Hall, from San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; October 2, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Arrive—October 3, steamer Eureka Smith, for San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; October 3, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Sail—October 3, steamer Pomona, Hall, from San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; October 3, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Arrive—October 4, steamer Eureka Smith, for San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; October 4, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Sail—October 4, steamer Pomona, Hall, from San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; October 4, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Arrive—October 5, steamer Eureka Smith, for San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; October 5, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Sail—October 5, steamer Pomona, Hall, from San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; October 5, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Arrive—October 6, steamer Eureka Smith, for San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; October 6, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Sail—October 6, steamer Pomona, Hall, from San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; October 6, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Arrive—October 7, steamer Eureka Smith, for San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; October 7, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Sail—October 7, steamer Pomona, Hall, from San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; October 7, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Arrive—October 8, steamer Eureka Smith, for San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; October 8, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Sail—October 8, steamer Pomona, Hall, from San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; October 8, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Due to Arrive—October 9, steamer Eureka Smith, for San Francisco and way, passengers and merchandise for S. P. Co.; October 9, steamer Falcon, Simme, for Avalon, Catalina Island, passengers and merchandise for W. T. Co.

Licensed to Wed. Marriage licenses were issued at the County Clerk's office yesterday to the following persons:

Maurice Poyere, a native of California, 25 years of age, a resident of Los Nietos, to Amelia Roma, a native of California, 18 years of age, and a resident of San Luis Obispo.

James A. Browne, a native of Ohio, 22 years of age, to Mamie E. Lawson, a native of Louisiana, 20 years of age; both residents of this city.

THE Chautauquans!

Union Meeting Called for Monday Evening, September 28, at the Trinity M. E. Church.

The interest in the Chautauqua course of study has been growing throughout the United States, and there are now hundreds of thousands of readers in the country. In Southern California there are several hundred Chautauquans, and each year shows a marked increase in their number. In this city several circles are already organizing. The following is the list of text books for this year:

1. Leading Facts in American History..... $1.00
2. Social Institutions of the United States—Byce..... 1.00
3. Chautauqua Course in English—Wilkinson..... 1.00
4. Initial Studies in American Letters—Beers..... 1.00
5. Stories of the Constitution of the United States—Thorpe..... 1.00
6. Two Old Fables—Mitchell & Muir..... .50

Total for the six volumes..... $6.00

Subscriptions received for the Chautauqua, $2.00.

Headquarters for Chautauqua for Southern California is at the bookstore of Edward T. Cook, 140 NORTH SPRING ST.

We have recently received an immense stock of the textbooks for 1891-92 and we urge readers to supply themselves early in the season, as it often saves inconvenience and delay to the purchaser. We are distinctly a religious book house, and are Headquarters for Bibles.

We carry the largest and most complete stock of Oxford Teachers' Bibles, English Teachers' Bibles, Holman's Family Bible, and all the best English makes of Reference Bibles and Testaments.

REMEMBER THE PLACE.

Edward T. Cook, 140 N. Spring

W. Chamberlain & Co.,

DEALERS IN—

Fine Groceries

213 Broadway, Potomac Bk.

TELEPHONE 441.

Government Land!

SAN CLEMENTE ISLAND

For full particulars of land, transportation, etc., see

W. W. Freeman,

ROOMS 55 and 56, New Wilson Block.

Corner First and Spring st., Los Angeles. Open evenings from 7 to 9.

"It Stands at the Head."

Greatest speed on record.

Special No. 3.

CLARK & BLANCHARD,

Agents for Southern California. Superior linen papers, carbon and supplies of all kinds.

211 FRANKLIN ST. Phillips Block.

For Wilson's Peak.

Free bus, on Tuesday, Sierra Madre Public Bus Line, to all parties hiring automobiles of Holmes & Van Doren. For Wilson's Peak, $1.00 for round trip, miles $2.00. Order camp accommodations, animals and bus in advance, by letter or telephone.

HOLMES & VAN DOREN, Sierra Madre, Cal.

THE FINEST assortment of Parisian hats and bonnets, imported novelties and fancy trimmings, the latest styles, at MADAME D. GOTTLIEF'S, 121 S. Spring st.

IF YOU are a lover of Formosa Oolong tea, try yourself to a pound of the most exquisite, $1.50, at H. Jevne's.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

THE WATER from Bartlett Springs is a boon to suffering humanity. For sale by H. Jevne, 136 and 138 N. Spring st.

WHITE ROSE FLOUR can be had at Jevne's, 136 and 138 N. Spring st.

GLUTEN FLOUR, sure cure for diabetes. H. Jevne, 136 and 138 N. Spring st.

COMBINATION COFFEE, always freshly roasted, three pounds for $1.00 at H. Jevne's.

CALL AT H. JEVNE'S for testimonials on Bartlett Springs water.

FOR MEDICAL properties no water equals the Bartlett Springs. H. Jevne, agent.

BARTLETT SPRINGS WATER cures where most remedies fail. H. Jevne, agent.

EVERY DAY IS A BARGAIN DAY AT LEWIS'

Ladies' fine "Day sewed" Dongola kid flexible-soled button shoes; $2.75, worth $3.50.

Ladies' kid button boots for every day wear, only $1.50.

Ladies' fine patent leather ties, stylish and dressy, only $2 a pair, worth $4.

Men's fine calf shoes for business wear, $2.50, worth $3.50.

LEWIS, Originator of Low Prices, 201 N. SPRING ST.

Everything in Vehicles!

Carts, Buggies, Phaetons, Carriages, Spring Wagons, Express Wagons and Farm Wagons. The best goods for the least money.

S. W. Luitweiler, Los Angeles.

COLFAX CART—All sizes. 200 NORTH LOS ANGELES ST.

Never Before

HAVE WE BEEN PREPARED WITH—

Such an Elegant Line of Dress Goods

Our Trimmings Department is supplied with all the latest in Braids, Jet, Astrakhan, Fur, Angora, Feather, etc. FURS in Capes, Collars, Boas and Muffs. We have enlarged our Corset, Hosiery and Underwear Departments.

Our Ribbon, Lace and Glove Departments are replete with all the latest novelties.

Our House-furnishing Department

Never was so complete from the cheapest to the finest.

Gentlemen can save 20 per cent by purchasing their supply at

Our Gents' Furnishing Department.

NEVER BEFORE

Have we marked our entire stock with such small margin of profit and will we assure the public of low prices, cordial treatment and no goods misrepresented. It will pay you to trade with us. To introduce our Fall Stock we offer:

- | | | | |
|---|-----|--|-----|
| $1.50 quality 24 inch wide silk Furniture Flush, per yard..... | $1 | Linen bleached Table Damask, per yard..... | 50c |
| 75c quality 16 inch wide silk Flush, per yard..... | 50c | 25c quality all silk plaid Windsor Ties, each..... | 15c |
| 90c quality 64 inch wide pure | | | |

Wineburgh's

309-311 S. Spring st.

OIL WELL SUPPLIES!

Boilers, Engines, Drilling Ropes, Pipe-etc

Eastern-made Drilling Tools.

The only establishment on the Pacific Coast that can furnish everything connected with drilling or pumping oil wells.

Santa Paula Hardware Co., SANTA PAULA, Ventura Co., Cal.

LEM. YOW & CO. IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN Chinese and Japan Teas, Silk Handkerchiefs, Preserved Fruits.

EMPLOYMENT AGENTS. Family and Hotel Cooks and Laborers furnished on short notice. Telephone 884. 511 N. MAIN ST., Opp. Plaza. P. O. Box 1128.

MISS M. A. JORDAN, 318 S. SPRING ST., Millinery Importer

And dealer in all the latest Novelties of LADIES' HEADWEAR. Special attention given to MANICURING and SHAMPOOING. Also agent for Miss Beach's Curling Fluid, celebrated for its lasting qualities.

T. H. Sharpless, Agent for Redlands Real Estate, State st., near Hotel Windsor.

THIS IS OUR WAY OF FITTING GLASSES. The careful and proper adjustment of frames is as important as the correcting of lenses. We make the scientific adjustment of glasses and frames our specialty and guarantee a perfect fit. Testing of the eyes free. Glasses ground to order on premises. S. G. MARSHUTZ, Scientific Optician, 227 S. Spring st., Theater Building.